Nixon Aims At Methodical Plans To Achieve Unity

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (AP) — President-elect Richard M. Nixon, relaxing today in island solitude, intends to make unity in a divided nation a keynote theme of his Republican administration. But the plans for achieving this aim are more methodical than dramatic.

The most important single thread in this effort is summed up in one word: communication. Nixon stressed it constantly in the more philosophical speeches of his campaign. Now he is considering how best to attain it.

Nixon was resting today on small, privately owned island in the Bahamas. He sunned himself and read in privacy on Mermaid Beach in the Grand Cay group of the Bahama Islands, 140 miles northeast of Key Biscayne.

Nixon flew there Monday by Coast Guard helicopter, with no advance announcement, accompanied only by his friend, C. G. Rebozo, and his Secret Service guards. He spent the night on the island, owned by Robert Abplanalp, a Bronxville, N.Y., businessman.

When he returns to work on the transition of government, Nixon is expected to have more meetings in a unity-seeking pattern he already has set, with leaders from various segments of American society.

He held such sessions in New York Friday, meeting with a businessman, Frederick Keppel, then a union president, George Meany, then a Negro leader, Whitney Young of the national Urban League.

His inaugural address on Jan. 20 is expected to stress the unity quest. The first broad outlines of that speech are taking shape as Nixon and a handful of aides relax in the sun.

Nixon also sees communication through the press, and directly to the nation through television, as important elements in the unification effort.

He is pondering now the best manner in which to deal with the news media, has promised an open administration and one in which policymakers will be accessible for public statements. He has sought out the opinions of newsmen on this phase of his planning.

The national unity effort also is a factor in his consideration of selections to the Cabinet. It will, Nixon has pledged, include Democrats.

Nixon aides indicate that the effort to make Cabinet choices which will enhance a sense of unity accounts for the moratorium on appointments outside the immediate White House staff.

Nixon reportedly wants the men who can help allay unrest in the nation, and wants plenty of time to seek them out. He therefore announced at the outset that no Cabinet choices would be revealed before Dec. 5.

French Talk Over Money Situation

Signs Indicate An Easing Of Europe's Financial Crisis

PARIS (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle conferred with Premier Maurice Couve de Murville and Finance Minister Francois-Xavier Ortoli on the European financial crisis today amid signs that the speculative frenzy was subsiding.

European money markets opened with heavy pressure on the British pound but on an otherwise quieter note following Couve de Murville's confident but vaguely phrased announcement that the Western industrial nations would not permit the French franc to collapse.

In a nationwide television interview Monday night, Couve de Murville partly blamed France's unbalanced budget for France's economic problems and announced austerity measures including a credit squeeze and cuts in subsidies to railroads and other public utilities.

Couve de Murville said nothing specific about how he intended to stop speculative pressure on the franc. Some financial experts said they were not convinced by his confidence in the absence of concrete measures to maintain monetary stability.

There was still complete secrecy over decisions which may have been taken at the weekend meeting in Basel, Switzerland, of the governors of the leading central banks.

Continuing uncertainty over the central banks' counterattack may have done more than the premier's speech to dampen last week's speculative fever.

On French money markets, the franc was again quoted at its official floor level of 4.9740 to the dollar this morning, while the German mark remained slightly above the official ceiling of 125.290. The pound dropped one point overnight to 11.8460, the lowest level for six months.

Ky Believed Top Man Of Delegation

South Viet, U.S. Officials Seeking Compromise Plan

SAIGON (AP) — The South Vietnamese government appeared today to be moving slowly toward a decision to send a delegation to the Paris peace talks.

Some South Vietnamese sources close to the government indicated that the principle of sending a delegation had been decided. There was a "50-50 chance" it would be led by Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky, the sources said.

Lending support to suggestions there has been a softening in Saigon's boycott of the Paris talks was a statement by Premier Tran Van Huong in the resort city of Vung Tau Monday.

Huong said "presently the Republic of Vietnam does not yet plan to send any delegation to attend peace talks in Paris," the official Vietnam Press said. This was clearly milder than the previous flat refusal to join the talks unless the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front attended only as part of North Vietnam's delegation and not as a separate entity.

South Vietnamese and American officials continued in contact Tuesday in an effort to find an acceptable compromise formula.

Some officials said they expect a Saigon delegation to go to Paris after a firm-sounding government statement reiterating nonrecognition of the NLF and declaring that any remarks it makes at the Paris talks would be addressed only to Hanoi's bargaining team.

Huong said the Communists hoped the United States will become discouraged "in the realization of their commitment to safeguard South Vietnam" and that foreign public opinion will exert pressure on the South Vietnamese and U.S. governments to force them into coexistence with the Communists.

Engineering Set For Water Tank

The Board of Public Utilities was given informal approval by Council Monday night to hire an engineering firm to begin planning for a new million-gallon water storage tank to be erected in the Henry Ave. area adjacent to the water department's standpipes at a cost estimated at $400,000.

Council acted after conferring in a caucus session with Walter O. Schneider, chairman, and F. J. Cloran, members of the board, and Harold Peterson, water department superintendent.

THE BOARD first revealed plans for the project last spring, explaining it needs additional water storage capacity to serve fast-growing areas in Pleasant Heights, Maplewood, North Side and Oakmont.

Peterson said the new elevated storage tank eventually would replace the two standpipes, which have a combined capacity of 330,000 gallons. One of the big metal towers is 50 years old. The other was built 40 years ago. The No. 2 standpipe is deteriorated badly, he said, citing an inspection of the interior made when the metal was repaired last year.

The board and Peterson pointed out the project would not entail an outlay from the city's general revenue. They explained an increase in water rates billed for the first time Sept. 1 was made in anticipation of the water tower project and other improvements in the system.

The board contemplates issuance of mortgage revenue bonds that would be retired out of departmental receipts, Council was told.

PETERSON emphasized that no firm estimates have been received on the tank project, but said the cost of the structure itself has been estimated at $270,000. The engineering and installation of new pipes and fittings might boost the overall total to $400,000 he said.

The tank will be erected on long steel "legs" to give addi-

New York Students Return As Teachers' Strike Ends

NEW YORK (AP) — The city's 1.1 million public school children returned to their studies today after a prolonged and bitter teachers' strike that cost most youngsters seven weeks of classes.

Police headquarters said there were no reports of trouble as the school doors reopened.

There was a sense of relief Monday after members of the AFL—CIO United Federation of Teachers approved settlement terms. Most city, state and union officials were gratified, parents were pleased and even the pupils were happy

An 8-year-old boy attending a Greenwich Village elementary school threw his arms around his teather and gave her a kiss.

It was the third time since the strike began Sept. 9 that the predominantly white, 55,000-member UFT had gone back to the classroom. Two earlier settlements broke down and the walkout was renewed.

Upon word of the UFT ratification, a state trustee officially took over operation of the controversial Ocean Hill - Brownsville experimentally decentralized school district in Brooklyn.

It was the summary dismissal of 79 white teachers from the predominantly Negro and Puerto Rican Ocean Hill district that led to the strike. A state watchdog committee has now been set up to oversee their return.

The Ocean Hill trustee, Herbert F. Johnson, associate state education commissioner, said he was putting off their return until Wednesday to allow time to work out class assignments.

2 Operations 450 Miles Apart

U.S., South Viet Troops Kill 181 And Capture 200

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. and South Vietnamese troops have killed 181 more Viet Cong and North Vietnamese and taken more than 200 prisoners or suspects in two operations 450 miles apart, military spokesmen reported today.

One battleground was south of Da Nang, where the Vietnamese area commander says the Communist command has started its winter offensive for South Vietnam's northern provinces. The other was 115 miles southwest of Saigon, where a big South Vietnamese force is trying to make a dent in a Viet Cong stronghold near the Cambodian border.

South Vietnamese headquarters also reported three provincial capitals and six district towns shelled by the enemy during the night and two terrorist incidents. A spokesman said these attacks killed 29 civilians and 12 Vitenamese soldiers and wounded 72 civilians and one soldier.

In the air war, the U.S. Air Force lost its sixth B52 bomber of the war when one of the big eight - jet Stratofortresses crashed and burned as it was taking off from Okinawa for a raid. All seven crewmen escaped from the burning plane, but two were injured seriously.

Twenty miles south of Da Nang, U.S. Marine scouts spotted groups of 80 and 75 khaki-uniformed soldiers on the move and called in Marine artillery.

Colder With Flurries Again Due For Area

The East Liverpool district continued to keep its shovels crossed in the hope that it will escape the snow which the weatherman keeps promising.

As yesterday, the forecast again calls for cloudy, windy and colder with snow flurries through Wednesday.

Tonight's low is expected to be in the upper 20s.

Priest, Four Others Given Honor Medal

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Roman Catholic priest identified as the first chaplain to win the Medal of Honor in Vietnam is among the five latest recipients of the decoration.

Capt. Angelo J. Liteky, who receives the nation's top military decoration today from President Johnson, was credited with carrying more than 20 wounded soldiers to an evacuation spot Dec. 6 when the company he was with came under heavy fire near Phuoc Lac.

Liteky, 37, of Jacksonville, Fla., received neck and foot wounds.

He is only the second chaplain to win the medal.

The four other Army men receiving the medal were Spec. 4 Gary G. Wetzel, 21, of Oak Creek, Wis.; Spec. 5 Dwight H. Johnson, 21, of Detroit, Mich.; Sgt. Sammy L. Davis, 22, of Martinsville, Ind., and Capt. James A. Taylor, 30, an Arcata, Calif., native stationed at Ft. Knox, Ky.

The awards brought to 61 the number of medals of Honor presented during the Vietnam war.

A Lisbon area man became Columbiana County's second traffic fatality in less than 12 hours and three others were hospitalized as the result of a car - truck collision on Route 154, a mile east of Lisbon, at 6:10 p. m. Monday.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said David Allan May, 19, of Lisbon RD 3 was driving a 1961 Volkswagen coach west on Route 154 when a 1966 pickup truck operated by James L. Moffett, 23, of Negley RD 1, went left of center and struck the left front of the May vehicle.

Moffett told the investgating officer he became confused as to where the roadway was as he came to the end of the asphalt in the construction area of Route 11.

Injured in the accident were May's wife Nancy, 21, his 5-year-old daughter, Jenny Lynn, and a passenger in the Moffett truck, Mrs. Sandra Moffett.

May first was taken to Salem City Hospital and died en route to Youngstown South Side Hospital. His wife is "fair" at the Salem hospital with head injuries, possible internal injuries and contusions of the chest.

Jenny Lynn, an adopted daughter, has been transferred to South Side Hospital. She suffered possible head injuries and a fractured nose and is "fair."

Slow Start Anticipated For Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 91st Congress, convening Jan. 3, is expected to get off to a slow start while waiting for Richard M. Nixon to take office and submit his legislative program.

One exception could be an attempt to obtain Senate ratification of a treaty designed to prevent the spread of nuclear weapons.

Democratic leaders also may try to win Senate confirmation of some recent appointments made by President Johnson after the 90th Congress adjourned in October.

At the start of a new Congress, especially when there is a change at the White House, the legislative processes move more slowly. Pending legislation does not carryover and members generally mark time until the new president submits specific proposals although they could introduce bills if they wanted to.

Extension Set In Fight Over Water Setup

LISBON — The Department of Housing and Urban Development in Chicago has given Columbiana County commissioners a 60-day extension on the awarding of a construction contract for the proposed $620,000 St. Clair Water System.

Opponents of the project have appealed to the Seventh District Court of Appeals from a Common Pleas Court judgment dismissing their injunction action.

They asked Common Pleas Court last April to enjoin the commissioners from entering into a contract to build the water system and from assessing them for the project.

HUD will not release a $240,000 federal grant for the work until satisfied litigation is settled satisfactorily. The case has been in the courts since the commissioners voted to proceed in July 1967.

Thanking HUD for the extension Monday, Commissioner R. Max Gard wrote, "We shall do our very best to expedite an early hearing before the Court of Appeals." The court will

Wellsville Board Approves Policy For Field Trips

The Wellsville board of education adopted a field trip policy recommended by Supt. Donald Lowe when it met Monday night in the offices at Beacom Memorial gymnasium.

The program will cover all buildings in the district, including Immaculate Conception, when public school buses are used.

The board members and administration officials pointed out they are of the opinion "that field trips provide a medium by which the pupil's educational experiences will be extended and enriched and also add an excellent link between the school and community."

THE FOLLOWING procedure is to be followed when planning a field trip: (1) Selection of the site to be visited; (2) approval of the building principal; (3) written permission of the parents concerned; (4) building principal must contact supervisor of bus transportation at least three days in advance; (5) shorter trips may be made during the school day, but the buses must be back in Wellsville by 2 p. m. for the afternoon run. All long trips must be made on Saturdays, or when school is not in session; (6) each building or organization will be responsible for the payment of the bus driver at the rate of $2 an hour; (7) the building principal will be responsible for the proper chaperoning of all trips, and these persons shall be school personnel; (8) each field trip, at its completion, is to be evaluated to see if it served the purpose for which it was planned.

During the school year each grade or organization will be limited to two field trips.

The following are suggested field trips considered suitable for each grade level: Grades 1 and 2 — Golden Star Dairy, farms in the area, fire station, grocery store, Carnegie Library, post office.

Grades 3 and 4 — Indian Museum - Hillcrest, library, both Wellsville and East Liverpool, Wellsville Press and East Liverpool Review, Ohio River Museum, telephone office, greenhouse, Stratton Dam, bank.

Grades 5 and 6 — Brickyard, pottery, dairy farm, Gaston Mill, Guilford Lake, Stratton Dam, Ohio Edison plant, Ohio River Museum, Schoenbrunn Indian village.

Grades 7 and 8 — Pittsburgh (all places of interest), steel mills, Titanium plant, Ft. Tuscarawas, Wellsville filtration plant, Courthouse at Lisbon, sewage disposal plant, city hall.

THE INCREASE of 10 cents an hour for Mrs. Alyce Carter, the board - hired teachers' aide, recommended by Supt. Lowe was approved. This raises the figure from $1.50 to $1.60 an hour, as of Oct. 21.

The folowing were added to the substitute list of teachers: Viera Vincze, Arlene Mathess, Don Chevaront, Mary Lou Welch, Kathleen Trainer and Darlene DeBee.

Board members upheld Supt. Lowe in his report that the Wells Hollow Rd. is not possible for a bus to pick up students.

He said that he and Phillip Chronister of the board of education, Charles Wilfing, principal of Hillcrest-Fairview school, and A. A. Poynter and Frank Woodrow, bus drivers, had inspected the road after requests from parents that nine students living there be transported to school. They were of the opinion that there isn't a suitable turn-around and also that the road is in need of more slag. The students now walk six-tenths of a mile to the Township Line Rd. to be picked up, which is two-tenths of a mile shorter than if they walked the entire distance.

Permission was given Supt. Lowe to contact the Ohio Power Co. relative to its recommendation on new lighting necessary for the sewing and cooking classrooms. He suggested the lights could be installed by E. C. Mundy, supervisor of custodians, James Salsberry, Nicholson stadium custodian, and Wallace Tipton, electrician, with the project being completed during the Christmas vacation.

SUPT. LOWE reported the response to the adult education survey "was very good."

The courses and the number requested were: Art 11; arts and crafts 16; math 3; physical education 6; shorthand 3; sewing 31; typing 27; Spanish 1; speed writing 2, and wood and metal 1. He recommended additional time be given the public to fill out forms for the classes.

Two new scoreboards have been installed for the opening of the basketball season, with the old one being transferred to the junior high games.

Fifty of the 131 lockers obtained from East Liverpool have been placed in the boys' locker room in the gym and the balance have been placed at the football stadium. Six tables have been purchased for the Arts and Crafts room. Fifty more desks obtained from East Liverpool are being refinished.

The monthly financial statement of the activity accounts for each building, as required by the state, were reviewed. Supt. Lowe showed a requisition form he had prepared for the custodians. They will be made out in triplicate, with the custodian keeping one, one copy going to Mundy and one to the superintendent's office.

Permission was granted Mrs. Ruthella Kerr, mathematics instructor; Mrs. Marjorie Dysert, English and reading instructor, and Mrs. Saundra Baker, fourth-grade instructor to attend an instructional workship in Cleveland Thursday through Saturday.

The report of Mrs. Jean Tipton, nurse on the tuberculosis testing program conducted Oct. 24, was accepted. It showed: Eligible for test 969; number receiving test 835; student cafeteria workers (Fairview) 3; new students 9; total tested 847. Reactors 3, refused test 122, adults tested 25, reactors 2 (known reactors).

THE BOARD agreed to study the request of the Hillcrest - Fairview Parent - Teacher Organization for the need of a new building to store carnival booths and school supplies presented by Wilbert Ewing and Ronald Ross. Ewing estimated materials for a 12-by-30-foot building would cost $800.

William Ferrall, president, commented that the board should have an opportunity to discuss the project. He pointed out the building is crowded and an addition to it would have to be built in the not too distant future. The building and grounds committee will inspect the school grounds and report at the December meeting.

Mundy, supervisor of custodians and maintenance, reported on building and furnace repairs and said that Nicholson stadium has been "winterized."

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. — How can I clean marble tabletops?

A. — Wash with water and detergent, rinsing, wiping dry, and buffing. You can wax them, if you wish, using a pure, white water - wax emulsion, not ordinary floor or furniture wax—this helping to retard soil. To polish a marble tabletop, use putty powder or jewelers' rouge.

Q. — How can I prevent wet leather shoes from stiffening?

A. — While they are still wet, apply saddle soap to them generously. Let the shoes dry with the soap on them, and they will be soft and wearable.

Q. — How about an easy suggestion for cleaning leather upholstery?

A. — Try using stale beer. Usually does a fine job.

Westmoreland Praises GIS In Vietnam, Raps Protesters

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Gen. William C. Westmoreland, Army chief of staff, Monday night praised the performance of the young American servicemen in Vietnam and took a slap at the antiwar youths at home.

"These young Americans have sought the challenges of combat, exercised traditional Yankee ingenuity and surmounted every hardship and frustration," said the former commander of U.S. and Allied forces in South Vietnam in praising the servicemen.

"Their attitude and performance have been far different from the mavericks of their age group here at home."

He addressed a banquet of the Cleveland Post of the American Ordnance Association at which he received the General Benedict Crowell Gold Medal.

In a news conference, earlier, Gen. Westmoreland denied that the United States had reduced its operation in Vietnam to a "holding action."

"We are fighting the same type of war of attrition we have been all along," he said, "with daily skirmishes, but no huge battles, aimed at grinding down the enemy to make it easier for the South Vietnamese Army to do the job alone. Last week we killed over 2,000 of the enemy."

He said South Vietnam's army has "noticeably improved in the past year."

The general said he was convinced that the South Vietnamese Army now is strong enough and determined enough to handle the Viet Cong without U.S. presence, even with the current level of North Vietnamese Army strength in the South. He said The North Vietnamese pulled back much of their strength following the bombing halt.

The boundary between the U.S. and Mexico is 2,013 miles long.

Wellsville Board Approves Policy For Field Trips

The Wellsville board of education adopted a field trip policy recommended by Supt. Donald Lowe when it met Monday night in the offices at Beacom Memorial gymnasium.

The program will cover all buildings in the district, including Immaculate Conception, when public school buses are used.

The board members and administration officials pointed out they are of the opinion "that field trips provide a medium by which the pupil's educational experiences will be extended and enriched and also add an excellent link between the school and community."

THE FOLLOWING procedure is to be followed when planning a field trip: (1) Selection of the site to be visited; (2) approval of the building principal; (3) written permission of the parents concerned; (4) building principal must contact supervisor of bus transportation at least three days in advance; (5) shorter trips may be made during the school day, but the buses must be back in Wellsville by 2 p. m. for the afternoon run. All long trips must be made on Saturdays, or when school is not in session; (6) each building or organization will be responsible for the payment of the bus driver at the rate of $2 an hour; (7) the building principal will be responsible for the proper chaperoning of all trips, and these persons shall be school personnel; (8) each field trip, at its completion, is to be evaluated to see if it served the purpose for which it was planned.

During the school year each grade or organization will be limited to two field trips.

The following are suggested field trips considered suitable for each grade level: Grades 1 and 2 — Golden Star Dairy, farms in the area, fire station, grocery store, Carnegie Library, post office.

Grades 3 and 4 — Indian Museum - Hillcrest, library, both Wellsville and East Liverpool, Wellsville Press and East Liverpool Review, Ohio River Museum, telephone office, greenhouse, Stratton Dam, bank.

Grades 5 and 6 — Brickyard, pottery, dairy farm, Gaston Mill, Guilford Lake, Stratton Dam, Ohio Edison plant, Ohio River Museum, Schoenbrunn Indian village.

Grades 7 and 8 — Pittsburgh (all places of interest), steel mills, Titanium plant, Ft. Tuscarawas, Wellsville filtration plant, Courthouse at Lisbon, sewage disposal plant, city hall.

THE INCREASE of 10 cents an hour for Mrs. Alyce Carter, the board - hired teachers' aide, recommended by Supt. Lowe was approved. This raises the figure from $1.50 to $1.60 an hour, as of Oct. 21.

The folowing were added to the substitute list of teachers: Viera Vincze, Arlene Mathess, Don Chevaront, Mary Lou Welch, Kathleen Trainer and Darlene DeBee.

Board members upheld Supt. Lowe in his report that the Wells Hollow Rd. is not possible for a bus to pick up students.

He said that he and Phillip Chronister of the board of education, Charles Wilfing, principal of Hillcrest-Fairview school, and A. A. Poynter and Frank Woodrow, bus drivers, had inspected the road after requests from parents that nine students living there be transported to school. They were of the opinion that there isn't a suitable turn-around and also that the road is in need of more slag. The students now walk six - tenths of a mile to the Township Line Rd. to be picked up, which is two-tenths of a mile shorter than if they walked the entire distance.

Permission was given Supt. Lowe to contact the Ohio Power Co. relative to its recommendation on new lighting necessary for the sewing and cooking classrooms. He suggested the lights could be installed by E. C. Mundy, supervisor of custodians, James Salsberry, Nicholson stadium custodian, and Wallace Tipton, electrician, with the project being completed during the Christmas vacation.

Perry Township Recount On Levy Set For Saturday

The County Election Board has scheduled a recount Saturday on Nov. 5 election returns from all five Perry Township precincts, in which a proposed 1½-mill levy for police services was defeated by an 11 - vote margin.

The recount will begin at 9 a. m. in the board's office at Lisbon, where supplies and ballots from northern county precincts are stored.

The official canvass of returns showed the levy was turned down, with 786 votes in favor and 797 against.

The petitioners accompanied the application with a $50 deposit representing the $10-per-precinct bond required by state law.

Neutralist Prince Sihanouk

Cambodia's announced neutrality in the Vietnam conflict is phony. This has been documented on numerous occasions but still Prince Norodom Sihanouk keeps up the pretense.

Perhaps it is out of fear of what would happen to him and his country if he broke off relations with the Communist nations and forced them out of Cambodia.

Perhaps he is enjoying the taxes he is collecting from the bearers of supplies to the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese forces and the boost to the economy of his nation from the greatly increased volume of business at the port of Sihanoukville.

AT ANY RATE, he is permitting Communists to use his territory as a sanctuary, mobilization area and supply route, and his only deep-water port as a major supply port for the North Vietnam army and Viet Cong guerrillas.

Meanwhile, he bargains with President Johnson, offering to release 11 captive American servicemen who blundered into Cambodia from South Vietnam, provided the President will assure him that all border intrusions into Cambodia will stop.

This would give the attacking Communist troops even treater security if they did not have to be concerned about pursuing American or South Vietnamese forces accidentally crossing into Cambodia or doing so while in "hot pursuit" of raiding guerrillas.

Undoubtedly convinced that the United States prefers things the way they are to an outright antagonistic Cambodia openly aligned with the Reds, Sihanouk is making hay while the sun shines for him.

The improving economy of his nation is evidence of the success of his neutralist policy. Still his must be an uneasy satisfaction.

FOR HE MUST KNOW that if the time ever comes when the Communists can use his territory to their advantage without paying taxes, they will do so.

More than that, he undoubtedly realizes that if they can assume control of his nation they will do that also. So he maintains lukewarm relations with the United States, feeling he can quickly improve them if the time comes when he wishes to talk back to the Communists.

If conditions become too bad, he always can flee with his riches to some European nation and live in luxury.

In the meantime, the longer the war continues and the more men die, the richer "neutralist" Prince Sihanouk and his Cambodia become.

Red Education Gap?

The issue of sex education in mixed classes at the junior high school level seems to have been settled in East Liverpool for the time being.

It is interesting to note that Monday the Russian Communist party newspaper, "Pravda," called for sex education at the high school level. "None of our children will bypass the miracle kingdom of love, and they should get there well prepared," the newspaper stated.

Unless Russian youngsters mature at a much later age than our teen-agers, the Kremlin policy makers would do well to consider earlier preparation in the schools if sex education is to be really effective.

For all the Communists' claim to practicality and the realistic approach to life, there seems to be an "education gap" behind the Iron Curtain . . .

Voter Lethargy

With all the excitement of the 1968 political campaign still fresh in our memories — the conventions, demonstrations, polls, speeches, newspaper and television coverage, and the final decision by the voters — it comes as a shock that percentagewise, fewer voters went to the polls than in any presidential election since 1956.

In that year, former President Eisenhower won a landslide victory over Adlai E. Stevenson as 60.5 per cent of the persons of voting age went to the polls. This year only 60.8 per cent made the effort to express their choice for president.

With the world in such an apprehensive state and so much depending on the role the United States will play in world affairs, it is deplorable that such a poor percentage of voting-age citizens should exercise their right to help select their leader.

In the face of all the political-education programs and voter-registration drives, the lethargy of these nonvoting citizens is appalling.

Sidestepping An Awkward Time

President Johnson and President-elect Richard Nixon are setting an important precedent in their agreement for advance consultation on major foreign policy decisions between now and Jan. 20.

Mr. Nixon's statement that the present administration will be speaking on foreign affairs the next two months with the full authority of the incoming administration is a case at point.

Thus, America can present a united front to the world and avoid some of the complications that could arise from the uncertainness of a transition period.

The president-to-be did not paint himself into a corner by agreeing to this procedure because President Johnson has consented to consult Mr. Nixon on critical decisions.

The cooperation of President Johnson and Mr. Nixon is an adequate means of sidestepping that awkward period between election and inauguration but it does not eliminate the problem.

Just because the seriousness of the predicament has been blunted this time, it should not escape congressional attention. Reducing the interval between election and office-taking should be high on the congressional priority list.

Fixing The Sweepstakes Game

Plain unadulterated dishonesty has forced one of the nation's major oil companies to make some changes in its sweepstakes game designed to attract additional customers.

The Shell Oil Co. has called in its "Mr. President" coins because it found that its service station attendants, in some instances, were determining which coins were winners and then slipping them to their friends. In some cases they even kept the winning coins themselves.

The cash prizes, which ranged in value from $1 to $5,000, were certainly tempting. Yielding to the temptation, the dishonest dealers and attendants devised methods of making impressions of the coins through their envelope covers without breaking the packets' seals.

The oil company plans to substitute "tamperproof" coin envelopes hoping dishonest persons will not be able to figure out a way to beat the game.

The dishonest individual is not willing to play the game by the rules. He covets special advantage and violates the code of the game to obtain it.

When successful, he pats himself on the back, pockets his ill-gotten prize money which he has, in effect, taken from some other player and then goes on his way to cheat another day.

At the root of such behavior is a deplorable lack of ethical values.

Getting Ready

By Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — The most important thing, now that the election is over, is for Americans to prepare themselves for the next four years. It isn't too early to start putting catsup on your cottage cheese, because that's the way President-elect Nixon likes it.

Art Buchwald

The first thing you have to do is stop calling Mr. Nixon "tricky Dick." That was all well and good during the campaign, but as everyone keeps saying on television, Mr. Nixon is the only president we've got for the next four years and Americans must treat him with respect. As for the first lady, Pat will have to do her own thing. Mrs. Kennedy was big on redecorating the White House, Mrs. Johnson beautified America, and Mrs. Nixon will have to find something else to do so she won't look as if she's copying the Democratic first ladies.

Quakes Are Coming!

Editorial Research Report

Earthquakes are coming. Dr. Charles F. Richter of the California Institute of Technology says he would not be surprised if a major part of California were devastated by a quake tomorrow.

The National Earthquake Information Center at Rockville, Md., told Editorial Research Reports it received word of some 5,000 earthquakes a year worldwide, or between 15 and 20 a day.

An earthquake shook up residents of 22 states as recently as Nov. 9. The Rev. Donald Roll, director of seismological studies at Loyola University, on Nov. 10 said no subsequent tremors were expected in the near future. "That was kind of a safety valve," he said. "The pressure which had been built up has been released."

THE AREA INVOLVED runs from southeastern Missouri to the St. Lawrence valley. The epicenter was located by the Washington earthquake center as 120 miles east of St. Louis at Mt. Carmel, Ill., near the Indiana state line.

Since the area has a history of quakes, tremors can be expected to recur, though the timing is indefinite. The more immediate threat is to an area of California that centers around San Francisco and extends to most of California.

Roger Rapoport in Esquire magazine reports that the entire 200-member congregation of the First Apostolic Church of Bell Gardens, originally of suburban Los Angeles, has left the Golden State for Atlanta, Ga.

The pastor, the Rev. Donald Abernathy, had a vision in which he saw the whole state swallowed up by the ocean. "God told me He is going to punish California for its sins," the pastor says, "especially Hollywood and Beverly Hills, where the movie stars live."

THE MAGAZINE SAYS at least three other congregations have been scared out of California by the quake threat. Bumper stickers in San Francisco's Haight-Ashbury area read: "Quake Is Coming, Prepare."

Life magazine suggests that "enormous stresses" are being caused by a warp in the earth's crust in California. "Sooner or later," the magazine observes, "there must come a day of reckoning. A sudden and violent readjustment, of a magnitude comparable to the San Francisco earthquake of April 18, 1906, and perhaps surpassing it, will occur."

A seismologist who asks not to be identified told Editorial Research Reports that heavy buildings of homes in the soil above California's several known fault lines is "sheer madness."

One theory is that geological indications call for a major quake in California about every 50 years. The last was more than 60 years ago.

UNTIL DR. FRANK PRESS, now chairman of the geophysics department of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, called for massive research on the probability of earthquakes some four years ago, seismologists in general would have told you predicting earth tremors was a fool's game. At that, earthquake research comes somewhere behind rainmaking in the scientific parade.

The Earthquake Information Center at Rockville was established only in August 1966. Now there is a growing body of research in the field. The Coast and Geodetic Survey has been monitoring earthquakes since 1925.

A measure of the magnitude of earthquakes is the Richter scale, created by Dr. Richter of Cal Tech. Anything over 8 on the Richter scale is a big one. That's what is feared for California.

RAYMOND MOLEY

Nixon's Fatalism

No doubt in the histories to be written in the years ahead there will be innumerable interpretations of the character of Richard Nixon. In that respect he may share the fate of Woodrow Wilson — the jury in that case is still unable to reach a verdict.

Indeed, a perceptive and sympathetic writer, Vermont Royster of the Wall Street Journal, already has perceived a likeness to the World War 1 president. Both men, he says, might be called "intellectual introverts."

Another sympathetic analysis appeared in Earl Mazo's book, "Richard Nixon: A Personal and Political Portrait" in 1959. (This excellent book, revised, has been republished this year with Stephen Hess as the coauthor.) Mazo discovered in his subject a strong element of fatalism. And in noting this in 1959, and also earlier this year, I suggested this from Shakespeare:

"IF IT BE NOT NOW, yet it will come: the readiness is all."

After something more than a casual acquaintance with Nixon over the 20 years since the Alger Hiss case, I believe that both of these appraisals fail in exactness.

Royster's comparison with Woodrow Wilson misses because Wilson never to the end doubted his rightness or, may I say, his own rectitude.

Nixon consistently has turned his unquestionably fine mind not only to repeated appraisals of policies but has relentlessly studied his own nature: "What did I do that I should not have done?" "What did I leave undone that I should have done?"

Mazo's suggestion of fatalism is good so far as it goes. But in Nixon's case it never has been the fatalism of Oriental philosophers. For that is a passive acceptance of what comes.

Nixon, with Spartan determination, has been preparing himself for the presidency ever since 1952 when Gen. Eisenhower chose him as a junior partner. "Readiness" for the trial, the burden and, if possible, the triumph in the position he has now attained has been an abiding concern.

Never since Jefferson has a president had such a self-imposed education. By making the hitherto meaningless office of vice president a vital factor in great affairs, he has seen the conditions and the consequences of presidential decisions. He had, in truth, a piece of the action. And since he believed himself to be in the line of succession, he was ready in 1960. In the years since he has continued that preparation with study and travel here and abroad. His "readiness" is our assurance.

Those who fall back on the familiar excuse for lack of understanding and call Nixon complex will lose the clue. To those who know him best and have been closest to him, he is not complex. In many of his decisions he has rejected their advice.

When President Johnson ordered a bombing limitation on the eve of the election, some of his advisers wanted him to denounce the act as a political gambit. He would not agree because he believed that Mr. Johnson had acted in the national interest.

In 1960 he refused to follow those who would have contested the patent fraud in three states. He did not agree to that contest because he held inviolate the national interest against the chaos that would certainly have followed such a contest. This I know to be true.

YEARS AGO HE REALIZED that it was not in his nature to be an extrovert like the two Roosevelts. He gave respect priority over popularity. He told me in 1960 that he detested the image-making that was so popular at that time. He said any such effort would be patently contrived.

The authentic Nixon was revealed on the Meet the Press show on the Sunday before the election. He was thoughtful, deadly serious — no fine phrases or wisecracks.

That is the Nixon in whose hands so much of our destiny lies for years to come. And considering the trials and vicissitudes that lie ahead, that character is what fits the mood of the times.

Through The Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO — Mrs. Ida Baxter was elected president of the Gleaners Class of the Newell Methodist Episcopal Church.

Boy Scout Troop 12, sponsored by the First Presbyterian Church, received its charter during morning services.

O. C. Reynolds and Logan Wells of Chester returned home after a bear hunting trip in Potter County, Pa.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — The Columbiana County Public Health League's annual Christmas Health Seal drive opened with a goal of $23,500.

A recount conducted by the County Board of Elections confirmed the defeat at the November election of a $210,000 West Local School District bond issue.

TEN YEARS AGO — Mary Lou Beaumont won the Prince of Peace contest at the Wellsville Central Methodist Church.

James Allen Johnston of Pennsylvania Ave., retired after being a postal carrier for 23 years.

Charles Schell, East Liverpool businessman, was named Ohio district chairman of Key Clubs.

FRANK PRESS, now chairman of the geophysics department of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, called for massive research on the probability of earthquakes some four years ago, seismologists in general would have told you predicting earth tremors was a fool's game. At that, earthquake research comes somewhere behind rainmaking in the scientific parade.

The Earthquake Information Center at Rockville was established only in August 1966. Now there is a growing body of research in the field. The Coast and Geodetic Survey has been monitoring earthquakes since 1925.

A measure of the magnitude of earthquakes is the Richter scale, created by Dr. Richter of Cal Tech. Anything over 8 on the Richter scale is a big one. That's what is feared for California.

RAYMOND MOLEY

Nixon's Fatalism

No doubt in the histories to be written in the years ahead there will be innumerable interpretations of the character of Richard Nixon. In that respect he may share the fate of Woodrow Wilson — the jury in that case is still unable to reach a verdict.

Indeed, a perceptive and sympathetic writer, Vermont Royster of the Wall Street Journal, already has perceived a likeness to the World War 1 president. Both men, he says, might be called "intellectual introverts."

Another sympathetic analysis appeared in Earl Mazo's book, "Richard Nixon: A Personal and Political Portrait" in 1959. (This excellent book, revised, has been republished this year with Stephen Hess as the coauthor.) Mazo discovered in his subject a strong element of fatalism. And in noting this in 1959, and also earlier this year, I suggested this from Shakespeare:

"IF IT BE NOT NOW, yet it will come: the readiness is all."

After something more than a casual acquaintance with Nixon over the 20 years since the Alger Hiss case, I believe that both of these appraisals fail in exactness.

Royster's comparison with Woodrow Wilson misses because Wilson never to the end doubted his rightness or, may I say, his own rectitude.

Nixon consistently has turned his unquestionably fine mind not only to repeated appraisals of policies but has relentlessly studied his own nature: "What did I do that I should not have done?" "What did I leave undone that I should have done?"

Mazo's suggestion of fatalism is good so far as it goes. But in Nixon's case it never has been the fatalism of Oriental philosophers. For that is a passive acceptance of what comes.

Nixon, with Spartan determination, has been preparing himself for the presidency ever since 1952 when Gen. Eisenhower chose him as a junior partner. "Readiness" for the trial, the burden and, if possible, the triumph in the position he has now attained has been an abiding concern.

Never since Jefferson has a president had such a self-imposed education. By making the hitherto meaningless office of vice president a vital factor in great affairs, he has seen the conditions and the consequences of presidential decisions. He had, in truth, a piece of the action. And since he believed himself to be in the line of succession, he was ready in 1960. In the years since he has continued that preparation with study and travel here and abroad. His "readiness" is our assurance.

Those who fall back on the familiar excuse for lack of understanding and call Nixon complex will lose the clue. To those who know him best and have been closest to him, he is not complex. In many of his decisions he has rejected their advice.

When President Johnson ordered a bombing limitation on the eve of the election, some of his advisers wanted him to denounce the act as a political gambit. He would not agree because he believed that Mr. Johnson had acted in the national interest.

In 1960 he refused to follow those who would have contested the patent fraud in three states. He did not agree to that contest because he held inviolate the national interest against the chaos that would certainly have followed such a contest. This I know to be true.

YEARS AGO HE REALIZED that it was not in his nature to be an extrovert like the two Roosevelts. He gave respect priority over popularity. He told me in 1960 that he detested the image-making that was so popular at that time. He said any such effort would be patently contrived.

The authentic Nixon was revealed on the Meet the Press show on the Sunday before the election. He was thoughtful, deadly serious — no fine phrases or wisecracks.

That is the Nixon in whose hands so much of our destiny lies for years to come. And considering the trials and vicissitudes that lie ahead, that character is what fits the mood of the times.

Outlook Seen Favorable For Vocational Program

LISBON — Conditions are favorable to move ahead with plans for a joint vocational high school, James L. McBride, superintendent of Columbiana County schools, told the board of education Monday night.

Both he and board member Donald Elliott, Rogers attorney, reported on sessions of the Ohio School Boards Association meeting last week at Columbus.

Elliott said the consensus as he interpreted it "was a retreat from school districts so large and populous the people have lost a voice in their control."

—:—

BOTH MEN seem to feel there will be little done in the next two years in the way of consolidations, as has been suggested, for eliminating county boards of education and in their place setting up county units with area service centers.

Elliott said the per-pupil cost of such an arragement is estimated at about eight times the present cost.

The educators said Gov. James Rhodes is pressing for vocational education and, with the Nov. 5 passage of Issue 1 which sets up funds for education, the next two years appear favorable for initiating vocational education programs.

McBride told the board that the school administrators have asked him to head a committee to prepare an operating plan for a joint vocational high school. He said he has invited Supt. Robert Pond of Salem and Supt. Joe W. Driscoll of Lisbon to serve on the committee, and is awaiting a response from several board members.

He said the committee will develop a plan to present to all the boards of education before it is forwarded to the Ohio board of education for approval.

THE COUNTY board in September adopted a resolution asking all boards of education in the county "to take another serious look at establishing an area vocational high school."

A vocational training center has been under consideration since 1964 when a survey indicated a probable enrollment of 920. Plans were sidetracked by an unsuccessful attempt to establish a community college. A 1967 updating of the vocational school survey indicated an enrollment of 1,130 students.

L. Olan Sanor of East Rochester RD 1, West Township farmer, prompted a roundtable discussion which developed misgivings about the content and timing of vocational schools.

Sanor said he is "not sold" on some of the courses offered in such programs.

Elliott said the high school's duty as he sees it is to concentrate on history, English and mathematics and educate young people in citizenship.

Allan G. Chamberlin, Fairfield Township farmer and organization director of the Mahoning County Farm Bureau, said vocational training might better be offered after students graduate from high school — something like the free junior college plan used in California.

DON RUPERT of New Waterford, a farmer, said he thinks educators have failed their purpose if they permit average or better-than-average students to enroll in vocational courses "as an easy way out."

McBride said his experience has been that many young people need motivation to remain in school, whether it be sports or vocational courses. Educators should do everything they can to keep young people interested, he added. He pointed out that selection of courses offered in a vocational school would be the responsibility of the governing board of local people.

Board members asked McBride, board clerk, to write a letter of condolence to George Trombitas, principal of Leetonia High School, whose wife Mary died Oct. 29.

Engineering Set For Water Tank

tional pressure to the water in the gravity flow system, Peterson said. Residents of the Maplewood and Hill Blvd. areas have complained in the past of low water pressure, particularly in the summer when demand is high, he added.

One type of elevated storage tank is 135 feet from ground level to the top of the structure and is 85 to 90 feet in diameeter, Peterson said. He added that the board may be required to negotiate for purchase of additional property in the area as the present site of the standpipes would not be large enough to accommodate the big tank.

The two present standpipes stand 70 feet high, but the first 40 feet of water add nothing to their uefulness, Peterson said. He said the water plant is required to pump continuously during hot weather to keep an adequate supply in the standpipes. Erection of the new tank should reduce the department's electrical bill for pumping, which will total about $30,000 in 1968, the superintendent said.

The two standpipes eventually will be phased out of use after the new tank is erected, Peterson indicated.

THE BOARD and Council also discussed the need of a new billing machine for the water department office. The board said it has been investigating a machine built by the National Cash Register Co. which would cost about $8,000.

The present billing machine is 15 years old and requires regular outlays for repairs, the board said. Council decided to discuss the request further and issue a reply to the board at its next meeting Dec. 2.

In other business, Council approved legislation transferring $8,377 from the income tax fund to the general bond retirement fund to meet a payment on principal and interest due Dec. 1. Council also approved legislation providing for transfers of funds totaling $25,000 within the water department accounts and $2,200 within the sewage department accounts.

The principal sums set up in the water department include $4,000 each for distribution employes and supplies and $3,000 for meters and repairs.

In response to a question from Councilman James Lowe, Solicitor J. Michael Kapp said he expects to present the first enabling legislation Dec. 2 for a small sanitary sewer project on the Sunset Dr. - Dodge St. area on North Side.

COUNCIL received a letter from Engineer George S. Bloomgren pointing out that the city saved $10,297 in a recent street improvement project because street department crews performed the work for some of the minor phases.

Tri-State Asphalt Corp. of Martins Ferry was paid a total of $74,109 for work that included resurfacing of St. Clair Ave. between 6th St. and Princeton Ave., a block of Washington St. and the River Rd. The job also entailed construction of a curb and gutter section on part of the St. Clair Ave. job.

Street department crews removed Horn Switch railroad tracks and paved the old crossings at a cost of $502; paved the Ralstons Crossing underpass with concrete at a cost of $3,440 and removed a retaining wall on St. Clair Ave. at a cost of $310, or an overall total of $4,243, Bloomgren said.

The $10,297 saving represented the difference between the contractor's bid and the actual cost for the work when performed by city crews, Bloomgren said.

The engineer commended Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey for the saving. He also pointed out that the letter "should not be considered as criticism of the contractor because the items performed by the city do not fall within the usual scope of the work of the contractor." Bloomgren pointed out Tri-State Asphalt usually confines its work to surfacing projects.

MAYOR George E. Willshaw told Council School Supt. Paul Blair asked for official notice from the city that it intends to discontinue paying for the school crossing guard system effective Jan. 1 — a decision made several months ago. Mrs. Betty Berg, clerk, was instructed to send a letter to Blair.

Councilman John Wilson, reporting for the claims committee, said it approved a $10.50 bill for auto damage from Robert Carroll of 425 Morton St. The committee rejected a bill, also for auto damage, from Donald Charlton of 439 Morton St., he added.

Councilman Edward Massey, reporting for the street committee, said two recommendations given his committee Nov. 4 have been passed on to the police department for investigation. The suggestions called for a treadle type traffic light at Pennsylvania and Maryland Aves. and a stop sign at the junction of Wedgewood and Globe Sts.

Massey also said the committee has approved installation of a street light on Monaca St.

Councilman Robert Sample, reporting for the planning committee, said it approved a request from the utilities board for creation of the new post of utility supplyman at the water department plant. The request was filed two weeks ago. Legislation was ordered for the Dec. 2 meeting to implement the action.

WILSON commended "anyone who had anything to do with the erection of the new Post Office" on Dresden Ave. He said he drove to the new facility Monday afternoon and was able to park without difficulty. There was no traffic congestion in the area, he added.

Councilman Frank Duffy suggested that permanent signs be erected on East End streets to warn residents when the city sweeper will be working. He said at present parked cars hamper the sweeper's work.

Vodrey replied that present ordinances now call for parking bans and signs in East End on Mulberry St., Pennsylvania Ave., Elizabeth St. and Harvey Ave. Additional ordinances would be required to set up further parking bans and provide for warning signs, he said.

The signs cost $6 each and about $1,000 would be required to mark every street in the city which is swept regularly, Vodrey said. Duffy asked the street committee to investigate.

The meeting opened with invocation by Councilman Donal I. Burcham. Councilman Floyd Murray was excused.

W.Va. Road Unit Cleared In Check Of Fallen Bridge

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — The West Virginia Road Commission has been absolved from all blame in its inspection of the Silver Bridge at Point Pleasant which collapsed Dec. 15, 1967, killing 46 persons.

Adm. Louis Thayer, chairman of the National Transportation Safety Board panel which is investigating the collapse, said Monday: "No kind of inspection could have told about the bridge."

Lordstown Set For GM Truck Assembly Plant

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—Plans for construction of a General Motors Corp. truck assembly plant at nearby Lordstown were announced Monday by F. J. McDonald, director of manufacturing operations for GM's Chevrolet Division.

No cost figures were announced, but it is estimated that the plant and equipment will cost about $50 million.

McDonald told a news conference that the 650,000 - square-foot two-story plant will employ 1,800 persons when it opens in 1970.

The plant will be located near the giant Lordstown assembly plant jointly operated by Chevrolet and GM's Fisher Body Division, which opened two years ago.

A metals fabricating plant is now under construction by Fisher Body at Lordstown and will employ about 3,000 persons when it opens in 1970.

When the two new plants are completed employment at the Lordstown complex will reach almost 11,000. The assembly plant currently employs about 6,000.

McDonald said construction work on the truck plant will begin shortly.

Vodrey To Join State Session On Span Inspection

Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey was to attend a meeting this afternoon at the Ohio Highway Department's Division 11 office in New Philadelphia to hear an explanation of a new state policy for regular inspection of bridges.

The discussion was to bring together representatives of cities, villages, townships and all other political subdivisions within the Division 11 area.

Vodrey said he does not know as yet if the inspection would be required on all bridges within East Liverpool or only the major spans such as the W. 9th St. ramp and the Freeway bridge over W. 8th St. There's a series of small bridges over the East End Run that could be classified more accurately as culverts, he explained.

The director said he learned, however, that the responsbibility for inspection of the state-owned Chester Bridge will remain with the Highway Department.

State Launches Survey

One Of Every 10 Adults Has Diabetes In Tyrone

TYRONE, Pa. (AP) — One or two persons of every hundred have diabetes in the United States. In Tyrone one in every ten adults has the disease.

In Pennsylvania the diabetes mortality rate is about 25 per 100,000 persons per year, about 40 per cent above the national average.

For these reasons the Pennsylvania Department of Health has launched an extensive survery of Tyrone, a community of 7,000.

A research team headed by Dr. George Tokuhata, director of the health department's research and biostatistics division, began the month-long investigation Monday.

"We don't know every much about diabetes," said Tokuhata, a doctor of epidemiology. "We know what we are looking for but I can't speculate too far on what we'll find."

Tokuhata said diabetes results from both genetic and environmental factors. "But I have a hunch it may be more environmental," he said.

Tyrone has a paper mill, a metal industry and, according to Tokuhata, a fair degree of air pollution.

Diabetes, according to Tokuhata, is a metabolic disorder of the pancreas. It results in a reduction of insulin in the body's system and therefore a breakdown in tolerance to sugar.

Tokuhata says the medical profession knows that the rate of diabetes is greater in obesity and heart cases. "But we want to further study the co-existent conditions with heart diseases and tension," he said.

Tokuhata said he wants to find out exactly how many diabetes cases there are in Tyrone, how many children have the disease, and the relationships with heart conditions and tension. He also said he wants to develop a complete medical file on the kind of pills, diets, medications, eating habits, physical exercises and occupations of members of the Blair County community.

The team of scientists includes a physician, a behavorial scientist, a nurse, Tokuhata and 160 volunteers rounded up by the Central Pennsylvania Heart Association.

"We're trying to get an exact count in Tyrone," he said. "Nobody seems to know the answers to diabetes, and we don't know why Tyrone has such a high rate. That's the reason for the survey."

Robert Kittridge of 1831 Lisbon St. told police a thief broke a vent window in the right front of his 1962 model auto Monday night between 8:10 and 10:10 while it was parked near the Emmanuel Presbyterian Church and stole three packages of cigarets and some cough drops.

Meanwhile, police also investigated an attempted weekend burglary at the Betteridge Sign Shop at 410 Elm St., owned by Raymond Betteridge of Chevelle Dr., Dixonville.

Patrolman Orin C. Smith reported the would-be intruder attempted to remove wood stripping around the rear door of the second-floor shop, which faces on Sugar St. An employe discovered the entry attempt.

Contract Due On Freeway Survey Here

A contract with an engineering firm to upgrade preliminary planning for extension of the Freeway to the Pennsylvania line is to be awarded within a week, the highway committee of the East Liverpool Area Chamber of Commerce was advised Monday.

Levi Kimball, deputy director of Division 11, Ohio Department of Highways, said the contract will be awarded shortly. The Michael Baker Jr., Inc., firm of Rochester did the previous survey.

He said the survey cannot actually be undertaken until the site of the proposed replacement of the Chester Bridge is determined.

He said the survey will be done in three stages.

Kimball said an engineering report on the feasibility of the proposed new bridge is expected next month by the West Virginia Road Commission. An economic report will have to be filed before the site of the bridge can be set.

In other discussion, it was learned a contract to build the final two miles of Route 11 in the northern part of Columbiana County and the southern part of Mahoning County will be let before the end of November. Only one other section in Mahoning County needs to be let for contract before the entire road as far as the Ohio Turnpike will be under construction.

Other discussion centered around the improvement to Route 267 and Route 7 south of Wellsville.

W.Va. Road Unit Cleared In Check Of Fallen Bridge

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — The West Virginia Road Commission has been absolved from all blame in its inspection of the Silver Bridge at Point Pleasant which collapsed Dec. 15, 1967, killing 46 persons.

Adm. Louis Thayer, chairman of the National Transportation Safety Board panel which is investigating the collapse, said Monday: "No kind of inspection could have told about the bridge."

Lordstown Set For GM Truck Assembly Plant

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—Plans for construction of a General Motors Corp. truck assembly plant at nearby Lordstown were announced Monday by F. J. McDonald, director of manufacturing operations for GM's Chevrolet Division.

No cost figures were announced, but it is estimated that the plant and equipment will cost about $50 million.

McDonald told a news conference that the 650,000 - square-foot two-story plant will employ 1,800 persons when it opens in 1970.

The plant will be located near the giant Lordstown assembly plant jointly operated by Chevrolet and GM's Fisher Body Division, which opened two years ago.

A metals fabricating plant is now under construction by Fisher Body at Lordstown and will employ about 3,000 persons when it opens in 1970.

When the two new plants are completed employment at the Lordstown complex will reach almost 11,000. The assembly plant currently employs about 6,000.

McDonald said construction work on the truck plant will begin shortly.

Vodrey To Join State Session On Span Inspection

Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey was to attend a meeting this afternoon at the Ohio Highway Department's Division 11 office in New Philadelphia to hear an explanation of a new state policy for regular inspection of bridges.

The discussion was to bring together representatives of cities, villages, townships and all other political subdivisions within the Division 11 area.

Vodrey said he does not know as yet if the inspection would be required on all bridges within East Liverpool or only the major spans such as the W. 9th St. ramp and the Freeway bridge over W. 8th St. There's a series of small bridges over the East End Run that could be classified more accurately as culverts, he explained.

The director said he learned, however, that the responsbibility for inspection of the state-owned Chester Bridge will remain with the Highway Department.

State Launches Survey

One Of Every 10 Adults Has Diabetes In Tyrone

TYRONE, Pa. (AP) — One or two persons of every hundred have diabetes in the United States. In Tyrone one in every ten adults has the disease.

In Pennsylvania the diabetes mortality rate is about 25 per 100,000 persons per year, about 40 per cent above the national average.

For these reasons the Pennsylvania Department of Health has launched an extensive survery of Tyrone, a community of 7,000.

A research team headed by Dr. George Tokuhata, director of the health department's research and biostatistics division, began the month-long investigation Monday.

"We don't know every much about diabetes," said Tokuhata, a doctor of epidemiology. "We know what we are looking for but I can't speculate too far on what we'll find."

Tokuhata said diabetes results from both genetic and environmental factors. "But I have a hunch it may be more environmental," he said.

Tyrone has a paper mill, a metal industry and, according to Tokuhata, a fair degree of air pollution.

Diabetes, according to Tokuhata, is a metabolic disorder of the pancreas. It results in a reduction of insulin in the body's system and therefore a breakdown in tolerance to sugar.

Tokuhata says the medical profession knows that the rate of diabetes is greater in obesity and heart cases. "But we want to further study the co-existent conditions with heart diseases and tension," he said.

Tokuhata said he wants to find out exactly how many diabetes cases there are in Tyrone, how many children have the disease, and the relationships with heart conditions and tension. He also said he wants to develop a complete medical file on the kind of pills, diets, medications, eating habits, physical exercises and occupations of members of the Blair County community.

The team of scientists includes a physician, a behavorial scientist, a nurse, Tokuhata and 160 volunteers rounded up by the Central Pennsylvania Heart Association.

"We're trying to get an exact count in Tyrone," he said. "Nobody seems to know the answers to diabetes, and we don't know why Tyrone has such a high rate. That's the reason for the survey."

Meanwhile, police also investigated an attempted weekend burglary at the Betteridge Sign Shop at 410 Elm St., owned by Raymond Betteridge of Chevelle Dr., Dixonville.

Contract Due On Freeway Survey Here

A contract with an engineering firm to upgrade preliminary planning for extension of the Freeway to the Pennsylvania line is to be awarded within a week, the highway committee of the East Liverpool Area Chamber of Commerce was advised Monday.

Levi Kimball, deputy director of Division 11, Ohio Department of Highways, said the contract will be awarded shortly. The Michael Baker Jr., Inc., firm of Rochester did the previous survey.

He said the survey cannot actually be undertaken until the site of the proposed replacement of the Chester Bridge is determined.

He said the survey will be done in three stages.

Kimball said an engineering report on the feasibility of the proposed new bridge is expected next month by the West Virginia Road Commission. An economic report will have to be filed before the site of the bridge can be set.

In other discussion, it was learned a contract to build the final two miles of Route 11 in the northern part of Columbiana County and the southern part of Mahoning County will be let before the end of November. Only one other section in Mahoning County needs to be let for contract before the entire road as far as the Ohio Turnpike will be under construction.

Other discussion centered around the improvement to Route 267 and Route 7 south of Wellsville.

Less Than Ten Unaccounted For In Boat Sinking

MANILA (AP) — A docking collision sank an interisland passenger boat at Cebu in the central Philippines Monday. Early reports said 200 passengers were missing, but later it appeared that less than 10 were unaccounted for.

The passenger ferry Iruna broke apart and sank minutes after a collision with the Eastern Moon, a 5,338-ton British freighter out of Hong Kong.

A national police officer at Cebu, about 300 miles from Manila, said only 30 passengers were aboard, and at least 26 of them had been rescued along with the entire crew. Earlier reports said 200 persons were aboard and at least six bodies had been recovered.

The Manila Daily Mirror said 46 persons had been saved and that no dead had been found. Rescue divers were being hampered by stiff winds, rough water and oil slicks, the Mirror said.

The Iruna reportedly was pulling away from the dock in a heavy rain when the collision with the incoming freighter occurred.

Council Rejects Zoning Change, Sets 3 Hearings

Council Monday night rejected, 6-0, an ordinance that would have changed the zoning classification of the former Riggs Co. wholesale grocery warehouse building on Dresden Ave. at Webber Way.

The proposal previously was rejected by the City Planning Commission, but Council also was required to act. The First National Bank, acting as trustee for James H. Riggs and P. R. Blake, had asked a change in the zoning from M-2 (limited industrial) to B-5 (central business district), explaining that an oil concern wished to purchase the tract to erect a new service station.

Councilman Frank Duffy previously supported the rezoning. He switched his vote last night after asking Don Eckert, planning coordinator, and James Lowe, a real estate agent, if there had been a change in the status of the building in the last two weeks. Both answered affirmatively without elaborating.

Council also set public hearings Jan. 6 at 7 p. m. on three additional requests for zoning changes on which the Planning Commission acted Nov. 12.

The requests cover the properties of Mrs. William G. Orr of 107 Blakeley St.; Charles C. Papendry of 1058 Pennsylvania Ave., and Bert Willison of Harvey Ave., for property at 1646 Pennsylvania Ave.

The Planning Commission rejected Mrs. Orr's request and approved the applications of Papendry and Willison. Council's legislative action will follow the public hearing.

HHH Talks To Apollo 8's 3 Astronauts

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Vice president Hubert H. Humphrey talks today to America's Apollo 8 astronauts and reviews preparations for their around-the-moon flight at Christmastime.

Humphrey is making a last trip to the nation's spaceport in his capacity as chairman of the National Aeronautics and Space Council. The vice president has been vacationing in Miami.

The vice president meets with the Apollo 8 astronauts—Air Force Col. Frank Borman, Navy Capt. James A. Lovell Jr. and Air Force Maj. William A. Anders—and discusses launch preparations with other officials of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

His itinerary included stops at the flight crew training building where the Apollo 8 pilots practice in a mock spacecraft, the man-to-the-moon launch pad, Saturn 5 moon rocket assembly building and launch control center.

Borman, Lovell and Anders blast off Dec. 21 for a six-day space flight that will include 10 orbits of the moon Christmas Eve and Christmas Day. They will be the first spacemen launched by a 363-foot-tall Saturn 5. The Apollo 7 astronauts orbited last month blasted off aboard a smaller Saturn 1B booster.

As chairman of the National Aeronautics and Space Council, President Johnson's chief advisory group on space affairs, Humphrey will report to the President on the status of the Apollo 8 mission.

After President-elect Richard M. Nixon takes office, his vice president, Spiro T. Agnew, will take over chairmanship.

The passenger ferry Iruna broke apart and sank minutes after a collision with the Eastern Moon, a 5,338-ton British freighter out of Hong Kong.

A national police officer at Cebu, about 300 miles from Manila, said only 30 passengers were aboard, and at least 26 of them had been rescued along with the entire crew. Earlier reports said 200 persons were aboard and at least six bodies had been recovered.

The Manila Daily Mirror said 46 persons had been saved and that no dead had been found. Rescue divers were being hampered by stiff winds, rough water and oil slicks, the Mirror said.

The Iruna reportedly was pulling away from the dock in a heavy rain when the collision with the incoming freighter occurred.

The original draft of the Declaration of Independence has not been preserved. It was lost after it had been sent to a printer, but there are several copies in Jefferson's handwriting in existence.

Council Rejects Zoning Change, Sets 3 Hearings

Council Monday night rejected, 6-0, an ordinance that would have changed the zoning classification of the former Riggs Co. wholesale grocery warehouse building on Dresden Ave. at Webber Way.

The proposal previously was rejected by the City Planning Commission, but Council also was required to act. The First National Bank, acting as trustee for James H. Riggs and P. R. Blake, had asked a change in the zoning from M-2 (limited industrial) to B-5 (central business district), explaining that an oil concern wished to purchase the tract to erect a new service station.

Councilman Frank Duffy previously supported the rezoning. He switched his vote last night after asking Don Eckert, planning coordinator, and James Lowe, a real estate agent, if there had been a change in the status of the building in the last two weeks. Both answered affirmatively without elaborating.

Council also set public hearings Jan. 6 at 7 p. m. on three additional requests for zoning changes on which the Planning Commission acted Nov. 12.

The requests cover the properties of Mrs. William G. Orr of 107 Blakeley St.; Charles C. Papendry of 1058 Pennsylvania Ave., and Bert Willison of Harvey Ave., for property at 1646 Pennsylvania Ave.

The Planning Commission rejected Mrs. Orr's request and approved the applications of Papendry and Willison. Council's legislative action will follow the public hearing.

Oberlin Students Protesting War To Stay On Fast

OBERLIN, Ohio (AP)—Oberlin College students on a hunger strike protesting the Vietnam war and resumption of military recruiting on the campus indicate they will continue the fast for at least another week.

Dr. Robert K. Carr, president of the college, turned down the fasters' demand Monday for a special faculty meeting today to reconsider its recent vote which led Carr to lift a ban on the use of the college job placement office by military recruiters.

About 30 students are fasting.

Carr said the next general faculty meeting is scheduled for Nov. 26 and added that the issue of the recruiters could be taken up at that time if one of the professors asks to have it put on the agenda.

John C. Kaza, 19, a sophomore from Beaverton, Ore., and one of the spokesmen for the fasters, indicated Monday that they may end their hunger strike if the faculty reconsiders its action. However, that can't be done for at least another week.

The fasters called off a demonstration set for today to show the support they assert they can muster. They said a thousand of the college's 2,500 students were set to voice their support of the fasters.

The demonstration was called off after the fasters learned that their demand for a special faculty meeting had been rejected.

NEW YORK (AP) — New York Law School paid tribute to a American judicial family Monday, awarding honorary degrees to Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark, and his father, former U.S. Supreme Court Justice Tom Clark.

The ceremony was held at the Hotel Pierre, headquarters of President-elect Richard M. Nixon, who sharply criticized the attorney general during the campaign.

"It never occurred to me during the campaign that I would be honored so soon in the new White House," the younger Clark said after accepting his degree.

"This augurs well for the new administration. It shows a new liberalism I had not anticipated."

SEATTLE (AP) — Six third-graders at Madrona Elementary School were credited today with saving a textbook publisher from reprinting a math book containing the right problems, but some wrong answers.

The pupils—Curt Smith, David Bierman, Alison Bland, Charles Klyn, Brett Bodemer and Jacqueline Boyle—were working as a group with a new math enrichment text, the teacher, Mrs. Carole Gromko, explained.

"They would try these problems over and over until they were sure the workbook was wrong," she said. Then some letters were sent to the publisher.

"Your students are entirely correct," the publisher replied, saying the letters came before orders to reprint the text went out and the errors were corrected.

$100 Million OK'd To Tear Down, Rebuild Part Of Watts

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Agency and the City Council have approved a $100-million project to tear down much of Watts and rebuild the area still badly marred by the 1965 riots.

An unprecedented joint hearing Monday night cut at least six months off the time required to put the urban renewal program into effect, spokesmen said. It means the rebuilding program could be completed in five years after remaining federal approvals are obtained.

The Watts riot left 34 persons dead and property damage estimated at $40 millios.

Since then, dozens of investigations into its causes have concluded that little if anything has been done to alter conditions blamed for the riot. "Today, the same conditions exist . . ." declared a report this year of the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

A 107-acre slum in Watts, much of the predominantly Negro area of south-central Los Angeles, will be cleared and new houses, apartment buildings and shopping centers built.

Present property owners and tenants will have priority in the multimillion - dollar neighborhood, say city officials. After 550 families are moved to temporary lodging to make way for construction, they will be offered apartments or home loans to move back when it's finished.

A few voices against the plan were raised at the daylong hearing, attended by 475 persons.

"We would like to be left alone—to help ourselves," said Mrs. Lotus Murphy.

"Urban renewal means Negro removal, no matter how you put it," said Dr. Christopher Taylor, a Watts dentist and property owner.

The northernmost town in the world is Etah, Greenland, and the southernmost town is Punta Arenas, in southern Chile.

Oberlin Students Protesting War To Stay On Fast

OBERLIN, Ohio (AP)—Oberlin College students on a hunger strike protesting the Vietnam war and resumption of military recruiting on the campus indicate they will continue the fast for at least another week.

Dr. Robert K. Carr, president of the college, turned down the fasters' demand Monday for a special faculty meeting today to reconsider its recent vote which led Carr to lift a ban on the use of the college job placement office by military recruiters.

About 30 students are fasting.

Carr said the next general faculty meeting is scheduled for Nov. 26 and added that the issue of the recruiters could be taken up at that time if one of the professors asks to have it put on the agenda.

John C. Kaza, 19, a sophomore from Beaverton, Ore., and one of the spokesmen for the fasters, indicated Monday that they may end their hunger strike if the faculty reconsiders its action. However, that can't be done for at least another week.

The fasters called off a demonstration set for today to show the support they assert they can muster. They said a thousand of the college's 2,590 students were set to voice their support of the fasters.

The demonstration was called off after the fasters learned that their demand for a special faculty meeting had been rejected.

Personalities In The News

NEW YORK (AP) — New York Law School paid tribute to a American judicial family Monday, awarding honorary degrees to Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark, and his father, former U.S. Supreme Court Justice Tom Clark.

The ceremony was held at the Hotel Pierre, headquarters of President-elect Richard M. Nixon, who sharply criticized the attorney general during the campaign.

"It never occurred to me during the campaign that I would be honored so soon in the new White House," the younger Clark said after accepting his degree.

"This augurs well for the new administration. It shows a new liberalism I had not anticipated."

GENEVA (AP) — Actress Sophia Loren is expecting a baby around the middle of January, informed sources said Monday.

For several months Miss Loren has occupied a penthouse suite at a hotel overlooking the Palais des Nations and Lake Geneva.

The 34-year-old Italian movie star, said to be in excellent health, is being attended by the Swiss gynecologist, Prof. Hubert de Watteville.

Her husband, Italian film producer Carlo Ponti, has been making weekend visits.

Miss Loren, who had a miscarriage in January, 1967, has often said her greatest wish is to have a child.

SEATTLE (AP) — Six third-graders at Madrona Elementary School were credited today with saving a textbook publisher from reprinting a math book containing the right problems, but some wrong answers.

The pupils—Curt Smith, David Bierman, Alison Bland, Charles Klyn, Brett Bodemer and Jacqueline Boyle—were working as a group with a new math enrichment text, the teacher, Mrs. Carole Gromko, explained.

"They would try these problems over and over until they were sure the workbook was wrong," she said. Then some letters were sent to the publisher.

"Your students are entirely correct," the publisher replied, saying the letters came before orders to reprint the text went out and the errors were corrected.

GREAT YARMOUTH, England (AP)—Paul "Red" Adair, Texas oil trouble shooter, used barrels of ground rubber and cellophane Monday to tame a gas escape at a rig in the North Sea.

$100 Million OK'd To Tear Down, Rebuild Part Of Watts

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Agency and the City Council have approved a $100-million project to tear down much of Watts and rebuild the area still badly marred by the 1965 riots.

An unprecedented joint hearing Monday night cut at least six months off the time required to put the urban renewal program into effect, spokesmen said. It means the rebuilding program could be completed in five years after remaining federal approvals are obtained.

The Watts riot left 34 persons dead and property damage estimated at $40 millios.

Since then, dozens of investigations into its causes have concluded that little if anything has been done to alter conditions blamed for the riot. "Today, the same conditions exist . . ." declared a report this year of the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

A 107-acre slum in Watts, much of the predominantly Negro area of south-central Los Angeles, will be cleared and new houses, apartment buildings and shopping centers built.

Present property owners and tenants will have priority in the multimillion - dollar neighborhood, say city officials. After 550 families are moved to temporary lodging to make way for construction, they will be offered apartments or home loans to move back when it's finished.

A few voices against the plan were raised at the daylong hearing, attended by 475 persons.

"We would like to be left alone—to help ourselves," said Mrs. Lotus Murphy.

"Urban renewal means Negro removal, no matter how you put it," said Dr. Christopher Taylor, a Watts dentist and property owner.

The northernmost town in the world is Etah, Greenland, and the southernmost town is Punta Arenas, in southern Chile.

ANN LANDERS

Drug Taker's Symptoms

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: My wife and I suspect that our 19-year-old college sophomore daughter is taking drugs. We're reluctant to speak to her about it for fear we might be wrong. She'd then become even more hostile and unreachable.

Will you please describe the symptoms that accompany the use of drugs. We're totally ignorant on the subject and are afraid to ask anyone for fear they might guess why we're interested. I'm sure thousands of parents around the country would appreciate the information. Thank you in advance, Ann. — NO NAME, NO CITY.

Dear No Name: Here is a condensed version of the material I've gathered from my medical and psychiatric consultants. Note, please, that symptoms vary according to the individual's degree of tolerance and the quantity of narcotics used.

Barbiturates (pills to calm nerves and relieve anxiety): Thick speech (as if intoxicated), lack of coordinationn, detachment, no interest in surrounding activity.

Marijuana: Strong, sweet odor (similar to burning leaves) permeates the clothing and lingers in the room where the smoking took place. Dilation of the pupils, red eyes, often hidden under sunglasses when there is no sun. Decreased appetite, unusual sleeping habits (up for 24 hours, asleep for 16 hours).

LSD: Incoherent speech, wide personality swings (high one minute, low the next), loss of motivation, vomiting. The LSD user looks as if he is suffering from a severe hangover.

Pep Pills: Rapid speech, giggling, loud laughter, extreme fatigue, trembling hands, loss of appetite.

Glue Sniffing: Slurred speech as if drunk, senses dulled, doesn't seem to see well or hear well. Passing out is not uncommon.

Heroin: Watery eyes, blank look on face, unresponsive, shakiness and inability to concentrate. Needle marks on arms which are often covered by long sleeves even in hot weather.

Easy Solution

Dear Ann: You helped solve a problem without knowing it. Here's how: Yesterday I reached the end of my rope. I decided to write to you although I used to look down my nose at people who did.

I stared at the paper for 20 minutes — not knowing where to start. Finally I sorted out all my hates and mental stumbling blocks in an effort to find a beginning for my letter. Strangely enough, I began to view my problem in an orderly, rational manner.

For the very first time I recognized the part I played in creating the problem. When I finally was able to accept my share of the responsibility I knew what the solution had to be.

So bless you, Ann. This letter isn't worth sending, perhaps, but the envelope is addressed and stamped, so I'm going to toss it in the mailbox — ANN FAN FOREVER

Dear Forever: Your "problem" was the easiest one of the day. Thanks for mailing it.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Ready-Made Salad Help

By HELOISE CRUSE

DEAR HELOISE: Empty a can of kidney beans into a strainer. Run cold water over them until all the bubbles wash away. Then put the beans in a jar and season with salt, pepper and garlic salt.

Heloise

Now cover completely with garlic or wine vinegar. Screw on the lid and store 'em in your refrigerator.

When you make a mixed green salad and wish to add color and tang, add a few of those beans. Sure gives it a nice tart taste.

When you use all the beans, open another can and repeat the process, adding just enough of the same type vinegar to cover 'em again. The vinegar mixture can be used repeatedly.

I find the beans are a godsend for color when tomatoes are the price of gold nuggets.

MRS. JOHN BRANNELLY.

Now folks, just wait 'till you make some of these beans. I did! I gave some to three neighbors and they all loved it.

And dad-gum, is that can of beans inexpensive! Only takes a few minutes to fix a pint jar. What I like about it the mostess AFTER the taste, is it's so convenient and always ready to toss in that colorless lettuce salad.

You talk about tang and whang? This has it.

Mrs. John, honey, you're a living doll.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I do a lot of sewing by hand yet am unable to wear a thimble. So I wrap a strip of masking tape around and over my finger where the needle usually pricks it.

I find this to be a real finger-saver because the rough surfaced tape lets me grasp the needle firmly.

LEONA MARTINEZ.

DEAR HELOISE: Maybe some of your readers have the wear wool or mohair sweaters that I have. That is, they can't wear wool or morair sweaters because of the "itchy" fibers.

I was given a beautiful fuzzy mohair sweater, so I lined it with an old long-sleeved blouse. It sure solved my problem.

Now I don't have to worry about the itching and can wear it comfortably.

JOAN DWYER.

DEAR HELOISE: Have you ever taken care of someone who is ill and had this experience?

You just changed the sheets only to have a spill or a hot water bottle leak — getting the mattress, sheets, blankets, and bedspread all wet?

I solved this problem by using my hair dryer (without the cap). In minutes everything was dry again. No more plumping up the sheets with towels and having the dampness around the sick one.

MRS. PHILIP GALLINA.

DEAR HELOISE: If you hate to reach for that wet-mop after it has dried stiff since last use, rinse it before you put it away, in water mixed with a little fabric softener.

It'll feel much nicer and smell better next time you start to use it.

BARBARA BRUCE.

DEAR HELOISE: I find a nylon net ball better than anything for removing excess starch or lint from clothing when I am ironing.

MRS. CARLOS SCOTT.

Mrs. Onassis Back In U.S. First Time Since Wedding

NEW YORK (AP) — Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis has returned to the United States for the first time since her wedding a month ago.

Smiling but uncommunicative, the modishly dressed former first lady arrived Monday by plane from London, where her husband, Aristotle Onassis, stayed behind for the time being tending to business affairs.

Friday is the fifth anniversary of the assassination of President John F. Kennedy, and next Monday the late President's son and namesake will be 8 years old. Caroline Kennedy's 11th birthday is two days later.

The children attended the wedding Oct. 20 of their 39-year-old mother and the 62-year-old Onassis on the Greek shipping magnate's privately-owned island of Skorpios. The children then returned to their private schools in New York.

During the flight aboard a Trans World Airlines jet Mrs. Onassis sat with Colin Simpson, a senior executive of Olympic Airways, owned by her husband.

She brought along a white pekingese named Daisy, who spent most of the flight in a cardboard carrying case. Daisy was allowed out briefly for some cuddling and lap-sitting and a sip of water.

Mrs. Onassis wore a dark gray coat over a short-sleeved, lighter gray dress, gold earrings, a brown shoulder bag, and low-heeled brown shoes. Her dress was midilength.

She was met by Onassis' 18-year-old daughter, Christina. John and Caroline Kennedy were not there because of the weather, which was wet and foggy. The plane was 2½ hours late in arriving due to a refueling stop at Boston and a stack-up over Kennedy.

Couple Really Picked Wrong Place To Park

LUTON, England (AP) — Paul Sibley, 18, parked his car in a deserted spot Saturday night and turned toward Janice Eaves, his girl friend. Suddenly a flare lit the sky and two men began smashing the car windows with pickax handles.

Sibley tried to drive away but was stopped by a police roadblock. He had parked in the middle of a police ambush set for a gang's getaway car.

The police said they would pay for the repairs to Sibley's car. They said the detectives had attacked without warning in the belief that the car contained armed criminals.

"I am sure I will always be nervous going out in a car in the dark," said 18-year-old Janice, who was cut by the broken window glass.

ANN LANDERS

Drug Taker's Symptoms

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: My wife and I suspect that our 19-year-old college sophomore daughter is taking drugs. We're reluctant to speak to her about it for fear we might be wrong. She'd then become even more hostile and unreachable.

Will you please describe the symptoms that accompany the use of drugs. We're totally ignorant on the subject and are afraid to ask anyone for fear they might guess why we're interested. I'm sure thousands of parents around the country would appreciate the information. Thank you in advance, Ann. — NO NAME, NO CITY.

Dear No Name: Here is a condensed version of the material I've gathered from my medical and psychiatric consultants. Note, please, that symptoms vary according to the individual's degree of tolerance and the quantity of narcotics used.

Barbiturates (pills to calm nerves and relieve anxiety): Thick speech (as if intoxicated), lack of coordinationn, detachment, no interest in surrounding activity.

Marijuana: Strong, sweet odor (similar to burning leaves) permeates the clothing and lingers in the room where the smoking took place. Dilation of the pupils, red eyes, often hidden under sunglasses when there is no sun. Decreased appetite, unusual sleeping habits (up for 24 hours, asleep for 16 hours).

LSD: Incoherent speech, wide personality swings (high one minute, low the next), loss of motivation, vomiting. The LSD user looks as if he is suffering from a severe hangover.

Pep Pills: Rapid speech, giggling, loud laughter, extreme fatigue, trembling hands, loss of appetite.

Glue Sniffing: Slurred speech as if drunk, senses dulled, doesn't seem to see well or hear well. Passing out is not uncommon.

Heroin: Watery eyes, blank look on face, unresponsive, shakiness and inability to concentrate. Needle marks on arms which are often covered by long sleeves even in hot weather.

Easy Solution

Dear Ann: You helped solve a problem without knowing it. Here's how: Yesterday I reached the end of my rope. I decided to write to you although I used to look down my nose at people who did.

I stared at the paper for 20 minutes — not knowing where to start. Finally I sorted out all my hates and mental stumbling blocks in an effort to find a beginning for my letter. Strangely enough, I began to view my problem in an orderly, rational manner.

For the very first time I recognized the part I played in creating the problem. When I finally was able to accept my share of the responsibility I knew what the solution had to be.

So bless you, Ann. This letter isn't worth sending, perhaps, but the envelope is addressed and stamped, so I'm going to toss it in the mailbox — ANN FAN FOREVER

Dear Forever: Your "problem" was the easiest one of the day. Thanks for mailing it.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Ready-Made Salad Help

By HELOISE CRUSE

DEAR HELOISE: Empty a can of kidney beans into a strainer. Run cold water over them until all the bubbles wash away. Then put the beans in a jar and season with salt, pepper and garlic salt.

Heloise

Now cover completely with garlic or wine vinegar. Screw on the lid and store 'em in your refrigerator.

When you make a mixed green salad and wish to add color and tang, add a few of those beans. Sure gives it a nice tart taste.

When you use all the beans, open another can and repeat the process, adding just enough of the same type vinegar to cover 'em again. The vinegar mixture can be used repeatedly.

I find the beans are a godsend for color when tomatoes are the price of gold nuggets.

MRS. JOHN BRANNELLY.

Now folks, just wait 'till you make some of these beans. I did! I gave some to three neighbors and they all loved it.

And dad-gum, is that can of beans inexpensive! Only takes a few minutes to fix a pint jar. What I like about it the mostess AFTER the taste, is it's so convenient and always ready to toss in that colorless lettuce salad.

You talk about tang and whang? This has it.

Mrs. John, honey, you're a living doll.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I do a lot of sewing by hand yet am unable to wear a thimble. So I wrap a strip of masking tape around and over my finger where the needle usually pricks it.

I find this to be a real finger-saver because the rough surfaced tape lets me grasp the needle firmly.

LEONA MARTINEZ.

DEAR HELOISE: Maybe some of your readers have the wear wool or mohair sweaters that I have. That is, they can't wear wool or morair sweaters because of the "itchy" fibers.

I was given a beautiful fuzzy mohair sweater, so I lined it with an old long-sleeved blouse. It sure solved my problem.

Now I don't have to worry about the itching and can wear it comfortably.

JOAN DWYER.

DEAR HELOISE: Have you ever taken care of someone who is ill and had this experience?

You just changed the sheets only to have a spill or a hot water bottle leak — getting the mattress, sheets, blankets, and bedspread all wet?

I solved this problem by using my hair dryer (without the cap). In minutes everything was dry again. No more plumping up the sheets with towels and having the dampness around the sick one.

MRS. PHILIP GALLINA.

DEAR HELOISE: If you hate to reach for that wet-mop after it has dried stiff since last use, rinse it before you put it away, in water mixed with a little fabric softener.

It'll feel much nicer and smell better next time you start to use it.

BARBARA BRUCE.

DEAR HELOISE: I find a nylon net ball better than anything for removing excess starch or lint from clothing when I am ironing.

MRS. CARLOS SCOTT.

Mrs. Onassis Back In U.S. First Time Since Wedding

NEW YORK (AP) — Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis has returned to the United States for the first time since her wedding a month ago.

Smiling but uncommunicative, the modishly dressed former first lady arrived Monday by plane from London, where her husband, Aristotle Onassis, stayed behind for the time being tending to business affairs.

Friday is the fifth anniversary of the assassination of President John F. Kennedy, and next Monday the late President's son and namesake will be 8 years old. Caroline Kennedy's 11th birthday is two days later.

The children attended the wedding Oct. 20 of their 39-year-old mother and the 62-year-old Onassis on the Greek shipping magnate's privately-owned island of Skorpios. The children then returned to their private schools in New York.

During the flight aboard a Trans World Airlines jet Mrs. Onassis sat with Colin Simpson, a senior executive of Olympic Airways, owned by her husband.

She brought along a white pekingese named Daisy, who spent most of the flight in a cardboard carrying case. Daisy was allowed out briefly for some cuddling and lap-sitting and a sip of water.

Mrs. Onassis wore a dark gray coat over a short-sleeved, lighter gray dress, gold earrings, a brown shoulder bag, and low-heeled brown shoes. Her dress was midilength.

She was met by Onassis' 18-year-old daughter, Christina. John and Caroline Kennedy were not there because of the weather, which was wet and foggy. The plane was 2½ hours late in arriving due to a refueling stop at Boston and a stack-up over Kennedy.

Couple Really Picked Wrong Place To Park

LUTON, England (AP) — Paul Sibley, 18, parked his car in a deserted spot Saturday night and turned toward Janice Eaves, his girl friend. Suddenly a flare lit the sky and two men began smashing the car windows with pickax handles.

Sibley tried to drive away but was stopped by a police roadblock. He had parked in the middle of a police ambush set for a gang's getaway car.

The police said they would pay for the repairs to Sibley's car. They said the detectives had attacked without warning in the belief that the car contained armed criminals.

"I am sure I will always be nervous going out in a car in the dark," said 18-year-old Janice, who was cut by the broken window glass.

Bus Survey Findings Are Due Shortly

A bus transportation survey is being conducted in the Southern Local School District by members of the Ohio Department of Education transportation department.

Zygmont E. Rataiczak of Steubenville, George Biehl of Stark County and William Thompson of Circleville, who works in Franklin County in the Columbus area, all area transportation finance coordinators, are making the survey.

Supt. Thomas Leek said the survey will be completed this week. Recommendations then will be submitted to the Southern Local board of education for action.

Leek said he also expects a state official to make a survey of the water situation. The high school has been short of water the last few weeks, with the cause still undetermined.

The state department is expected to run tests the first week in December to determine whether the pumps are working to capacity, whether the best time to pump water is being utilized, or if it will be necessary to drill a new well to meet increased water needs.

At the time the high school was built five years ago, a state geologist was consulted as to where and what depths to drill. His specifications were followed.

Leek said the water supply this morning was sufficient.

Welfare Group Plans New Demonstration

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — The Citywide Welfare Rights Organization planned to demonstrate again today at the Lucas County Welfare Building in support of its demands for higher clothing allotments to mothers receiving Aid to Dependent Children (ADC) allotments.

About 100 persons, most of them ADC mothers, were to picket for an additional $70 a year clothing money. The organization, formerly known as the League for Improvement of Family Emphasis, walked out of a meeting with County Commission President Sol Wittenberg on Monday.

Dedication Held

Dedication of the reconstructed Peter Tarr iron furnace was held Sunday at the site of the crude furnace built in 1790 north of Weirton.

Rain dampened the ceremonies which were transferred to the King's Creek Union Chapel about a mile from the historic tract.

Among those taking part were, left to right, Daniel W. Jones, president of the Hancock County Historical Society; Robert Tarr, great-great-grandson of Tarr who is holding a cannon ball made from iron produced at the furnace; Mrs. Jones; Wallis Herron, first president of the society; Alex McIntosh, first chairman of the furnace restoration committee; and Thomas Donovan, vice president.

The furnace was originally built in the years between 1790-94 for the preparation of iron ore which was later used to make products ranging from cannon balls to cooking utensils.

The society, which was formed in 1966, received a $3,000 grant from the J. C. Williams Trust Fund to help with the reconstruction. Williams was co-founder of the Weirton Steel Corp.

Nine months of work by society members saw the project finished, Jones said. A steel drum was used to reinforce the structure which was rebuilt of original stone. Oswald DiBartholomeo, a stone mason from Weirton, was the lone paid person on the project.

Women Are Advised To Read Article About Breast Cancer

Dr. William Kolozsi of the Columbiana County unit of the American Cancer Society says every woman, and every husband as well, should read an article on breast cancer in the November issue of "Woman's Day."

He said "Still A Woman," written by Walter S. Ross, "answers every woman's questions about what will happen to her if she develops breast cancer."

Ross is editorial consultant to the American Cancer Society and author of "The Climate Is Hope," a collection of case histories about people who triumphed over cancer, and "The Last Hero," a biography of Charles Lindbergh.

Dr. Kolozsi noted that one of the serious problems confronting a woman who loses a breast to cancer is not the surgery itself but her psychological attitude afterward. He said many hospitals and surgeons are beginning to recognize that the psychic trauma connected with breast cancer is as devastating as the disease itself.

"Still A Woman" describes the accomplishments of Mrs. Harold F. Seefeld, head of a new rehabilitation program sponsored by the ACS in Philadelphia. A mastectomy patient herself, Mrs. Seefeld visits women who have had breast surgery to help them overcome depression and fear after their operation.

Dr. Kolozsi said the article explains what a woman who discovers a lump in her breast should do and what her doctor is likely to advertise. It gives recent ACS statistics that 75 to 80 per cent of breast lumps that are biopsied are found to be non-cancerous.

Dr. Kolozsi emphasized the importance of women learning how to examine their breasts for cancer. "Please don't delay if you find a lump," he urged. "many, many of them are harmless, but those that aren't are much more likely to be cured if we doctors can treat them early."

Brock Aide Due Position With Nixon

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) A Nixon administration post will go today to William E. Timmons, administrative assistant to Rep. William E. Brock, R-Tenn., the Nashville Tennessean said.

The Nashville newspaper said Timmons, a veteran of Republican politics, will be named a special assistant to President-elect Richard M. Nixon.

Edmund Willingham, Tennessean Washington correspondent, said in a copyright story that Timmons will assist Bryce Harlow, in charge of congressional relations for the Nixon administration.

Willingham said Timmons will be in charge of relations between the new administration and the house of representatives.

Timmons was reported to be in New York, where he would remain until the new administration shifts its operations to Washington.

Timmons was an aide to Sen. Alexander Wiley, R-Wis., from 1955 to 1961. In 1962, while executive secretary of the Republican party in Hamilton County, Tenn., he managed Brock's successful election campaign and has worked since then as administrative assistant to the Chattanooga congressman.

Terms Given 2 Salem Men

LISBON — Two Salem men were sentenced Monday in Juvenile Court for contributing to the delinquency of two 16-year-old Salem girls.

James R. Corey, 19, of 274 N. Ellsworth Ave., already on probation for a similar offense last April, and Dennis A. Frank, 22, of 722 W. Wilson St., pleaded guilty before Judge Louis Tobin.

Corey was sentenced to 11 months in the County Jail.

Frank was sentenced to six months in jail but the judge suspended five months and gave Frank the option of serving 30 days or paying a $200 fine on or before Nov. 23. Both men were returned to the jail from the courtroom.

Salem police referred the case to juvenile authorities last week, alleging the men helped the girls run away to Pittsburgh. They were missing from Nov. 8 to last Tuesday.

The court found the girls to be delinquent and placed them on probation to their parents, who are to report any violation of probation terms or face contempt of court action.

Judge Tobin placed the girls on a 7 p.m. curfew until the end of the school year, ordered them not to have any dates until next July 1, and not to go anywhere unless accompanied by one of their parents. Both are to report to the County Mental Health Clinic and follow its recommendations.

The DOCTOR Says

Use An Air Filter To Rid Allergens

In families with an allergic member, the house should be made as dust - free as possible, according to Dr. Irving Itkin of the National Jewish Hospital in Denver. To accomplish this the bedroom should be equipped with an electrostatic air filter to eliminate molds and pollens from the atmosphere. An effective filter should remove about 90 per cent of these allergens. Most homes have too little moisture in the air for allergic suffers. For these persons, the humidity should be between 50 and 75.

Dr. Brandstadt

IN THE BATHROOM, laminated plastic panels are better than small ceramic or plastic tiles because with the latter more moisture can seep through the seal and allow the growth of mold. The new flexible silicon rubber mastics offer the most impregnable seal between the wall and the tub. Even though laminated plastics cost more, they are cheaper to install so it evens out.

—:—

IF YOUR HOME is being remodeled, it will help if the bedrooms are widely separated from the living area. The garage should not be attached to the house. Although electric or hot water heating is preferable to a hot - air furnace, the type of heating is not as important as the location of the furnace. The fumes from gas, coal or oil may aggravate an allergy. This is also true of the lubricating grease used in a blower. The furnace should, therefore, be placed in a separate room with an outside entrance.

VINYL BUILDING materials are the easiest to keep dust-free. Fiberglass curtains are better than cloth for minimizing house dust. Your rugs should be of the low - pile variety and should be cleaned once or twice a year. Because a clothes dryer is a source of dust, it should be vented to the outside. It will also help to cut down the dust if you spray the furniture every six months with an odorless compound that emulsifies with water and leaves an invisible coating on the fabric.

—:—

EVEN IF YOU cannot use all of Dr. Itkin's suggestions for dust proofing your home, the application of any one of them will reduce the number and severity of allergic episodes in a suffer.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of The Review. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Parents Get Warning Of Law On Air Rifles

East Liverpool police warned parents today that Ohio law makes it illegal for a person under 16 to possess or fire a so-called air rifle.

The law applies to persons who furnish a minor with an air rifle or pistol or allow him to use it. The maximum penalty for a violation is a $100 fine or a 30-day jail term, or both.

Law also forbids use of an air rifle or pistol inside the corporate limits. Police issued the warning after receiving complaints from householders citing renewed instances of vandalism involving air guns. One woman complained her house cat had been wounded by BB pellets twice in recent weeks.

Cash Register Company Struck For First Time

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — The National Cash Register Co. has been struck for the first time here by the NCR Employes Independent Union.

Despite reports of progress in contract negotiations, an unexplained wildcat strike broke out Monday. Estimates of the number of union workers honoring the picket lines went as high as 10,000.

Monday night the strike received the sanction of the union Executive Committee. The company informed the 14,863 union members that they should not report for work today at the NCR complex of buildings here.

A. Charles Withrow, president of the union, said the Executive Committee had sanctioned the strike "to protect the majority of union members."

Earlier Monday Withrow said, "We are negotiating and we are making progress." He said at that time that another session was scheduled for today with company officials.

Negotiations have been under way more than a year. They were held up temporarily in the past months by a National Labor Relations Board election at the plant.

PRECIOUS TOPAZ

Genuine topaz has always been one of the fine gemstones of the world. Pliny, an early Roman historian, indirectly gave the gem its name. He wrote about a foggy island in the Red Sea which those looking for the gem had "to seek." (The word TOPAZUS means "to seek" in Greek.) Madagascar, Ceylon, Burma and Brazil are other areas where precious topaz is found.

It is unfortunate that citrine quartz has been commonly (and incorrectly) called topaz by some jewelers in this country as well as abroad. Citrine quartz resembles some varieties of topaz, but is of an entirely different mineral family. Being less rare than the precious topaz, it is naturally less costly. Quartz gems are found in great abundance in many parts of the world, especially Brazil.

"Oriental Topaz" is another erroneous term that has been used. This refers to yellow sapphire — a perfectly lovely stone in its own right, and one that does not need any name other than yellow or golden sapphire. In color, precious topaz is best known as being a fine yellow of a shade resembling sherry wine. There is also a pinkish hue, and a light blue. Colorless topaz gems are occasionally found in the United States.

As members of the American Gem Society, we must carefully distinguish between the commoner citrine quartz and the precious topaz. If you are interested in obtaining one of these rather rare gemstones, we will be happy to help you. However, they are not too available on the market, and do command a suitable price. For the gem lover, though, they are an exquisite prize.

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) A Nixon administration post will go today to William E. Timmons, administrative assistant to Rep. William E. Brock, R-Tenn., the Nashville Tennessean said.

The Nashville newspaper said Timmons, a veteran of Republican politics, will be named a special assistant to President-elect Richard M. Nixon.

Edmund Willingham, Tennessean Washington correspondent, said in a copyright story that Timmons will assist Bryce Harlow, in charge of congressional relations for the Nixon administration.

Willingham said Timmons will be in charge of relations between the new administration and the house of representatives.

Timmons was reported to be in New York, where he would remain until the new administration shifts its operations to Washington.

Timmons was an aide to Sen. Alexander Wiley, R-Wis., from 1955 to 1961. In 1962, while executive secretary of the Republican party in Hamilton County, Tenn., he managed Brock's successful election campaign and has worked since then as administrative assistant to the Chattanooga congressman.

Terms Given 2 Salem Men

LISBON — Two Salem men were sentenced Monday in Juvenile Court for contributing to the delinquency of two 16-year-old Salem girls.

James R. Corey, 19, of 274 N. Ellsworth Ave., already on probation for a similar offense last April, and Dennis A. Frank, 22, of 722 W. Wilson St., pleaded guilty before Judge Louis Tobin.

Corey was sentenced to 11 months in the County Jail.

Frank was sentenced to six months in jail but the judge suspended five months and gave Frank the option of serving 30 days or paying a $200 fine on or before Nov. 23. Both men were returned to the jail from the courtroom.

Salem police referred the case to juvenile authorities last week, alleging the men helped the girls run away to Pittsburgh. They were missing from Nov. 8 to last Tuesday.

The court found the girls to be delinquent and placed them on probation to their parents, who are to report any violation of probation terms or face contempt of court action.

Judge Tobin placed the girls on a 7 p.m. curfew until the end of the school year, ordered them not to have any dates until next July 1, and not to go anywhere unless accompanied by one of their parents. Both are to report to the County Mental Health Clinic and follow its recommendations.

The DOCTOR Says

Use An Air Filter To Rid Allergens

In families with an allergic member, the house should be made as dust - free as possible, according to Dr. Irving Itkin of the National Jewish Hospital in Denver. To accomplish this the bedroom should be equipped with an electrostatic air filter to eliminate molds and pollens from the atmosphere. An effective filter should remove about 90 per cent of these allergens. Most homes have too little moisture in the air for allergic suffers. For these persons, the humidity should be between 50 and 75.

IN THE BATHROOM, laminated plastic panels are better than small ceramic or plastic tiles because with the latter more moisture can seep through the seal and allow the growth of mold. The new flexible silicon rubber mastics offer the most impregnable seal between the wall and the tub. Even though laminated plastics cost more, they are cheaper to install so it evens out.

—:—

IF YOUR HOME is being remodeled, it will help if the bedrooms are widely separated from the living area. The garage should not be attached to the house. Although electric or hot water heating is preferable to a hot - air furnace, the type of heating is not as important as the location of the furnace. The fumes from gas, coal or oil may aggravate an allergy. This is also true of the lubricating grease used in a blower. The furnace should, therefore, be placed in a separate room with an outside entrance.

VINYL BUILDING materials are the easiest to keep dust-free. Fiberglass curtains are better than cloth for minimizing house dust. Your rugs should be of the low - pile variety and should be cleaned once or twice a year. Because a clothes dryer is a source of dust, it should be vented to the outside. It will also help to cut down the dust if you spray the furniture every six months with an odorless compound that emulsifies with water and leaves an invisible coating on the fabric.

—:—

EVEN IF YOU cannot use all of Dr. Itkin's suggestions for dust proofing your home, the application of any one of them will reduce the number and severity of allergic episodes in a suffer.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of The Review. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Parents Get Warning Of Law On Air Rifles

East Liverpool police warned parents today that Ohio law makes it illegal for a person under 16 to possess or fire a so-called air rifle.

The law applies to persons who furnish a minor with an air rifle or pistol or allow him to use it. The maximum penalty for a violation is a $100 fine or a 30-day jail term, or both.

Law also forbids use of an air rifle or pistol inside the corporate limits. Police issued the warning after receiving complaints from householders citing renewed instances of vandalism involving air guns. One woman complained her house cat had been wounded by BB pellets twice in recent weeks.

Cash Register Company Struck For First Time

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — The National Cash Register Co. has been struck for the first time here by the NCR Employes Independent Union.

Despite reports of progress in contract negotiations, an unexplained wildcat strike broke out Monday. Estimates of the number of union workers honoring the picket lines went as high as 10,000.

Monday night the strike received the sanction of the union Executive Committee. The company informed the 14,863 union members that they should not report for work today at the NCR complex of buildings here.

A. Charles Withrow, president of the union, said the Executive Committee had sanctioned the strike "to protect the majority of union members."

Earlier Monday Withrow said, "We are negotiating and we are making progress." He said at that time that another session was scheduled for today with company officials.

Negotiations have been under way more than a year. They were held up temporarily in the past months by a National Labor Relations Board election at the plant.

PRECIOUS TOPAZ

Genuine topaz has always been one of the fine gemstones of the world. Pliny, an early Roman historian, indirectly gave the gem its name. He wrote about a foggy island in the Red Sea which those looking for the gem had "to seek." (The word TOPAZUS means "to seek" in Greek.) Madagascar, Ceylon, Burma and Brazil are other areas where precious topaz is found.

It is unfortunate that citrine quartz has been commonly (and incorrectly) called topaz by some jewelers in this country as well as abroad. Citrine quartz resembles some varieties of topaz, but is of an entirely different mineral family. Being less rare than the precious topaz, it is naturally less costly. Quartz gems are found in great abundance in many parts of the world, especially Brazil.

"Oriental Topaz" is another erroneous term that has been used. This refers to yellow sapphire — a perfectly lovely stone in its own right, and one that does not need any name other than yellow or golden sapphire. In color, precious topaz is best known as being a fine yellow of a shade resembling sherry wine. There is also a pinkish hue, and a light blue. Colorless topaz gems are occasionally found in the United States.

As members of the Amercian Gem Society, we must carefully distinguish between the commoner citrine quartz and the precious topaz. If you are interested in obtaining one of these rather rare gemstones, we will be happy to help you. However, they are not too available on the market, and do command a suitable price. For the gem lover, though, they are an exquisite prize.

Transfer To Pen Being Waited In Burglary Case

LISBON — Wayne M. Deffenbaugh, 56, of East Palestine is in the County Jail here awaiting transfer to the Ohio Penitentiary to serve 1 to 15 years for burglary.

Bound over to the Grand Jury in connection with a burglary Nov. 7 at the Morris Golden Dawn foods store in East Palestine, Deffenbaugh chose not to wait for the next session of the Grand Jury in January.

He appeared Friday before Judge Raymond P. Buzzard, waived his right to a Grand Jury investigation and pleaded guilty to the charge presented by the prosecution attorney.

In another Common Pleas Court action Monday, Judge Joel H. Sharp withheld a ruling on the prosecutor's application to terminate probation granted last January to Bessie May Burkholder, 32, of Unity. She had pleaded guilty to forgery last year and was placed on good behavior for five years.

Judge Sharp said he found Mrs. Burkholder violated his order to take care of her five children and husband, but he will defer a ruling until the outcome of a hearing in Juvenile Court, where the defendant is charged with contributing to the neglect of the youngsters, ages 5 to 14.

Mrs. Burkholder has been in the County Jail the last four weeks. Judge Sharp ordered her release on her promise to appear when called.

FILM FIGURE DIES. Walter Wanger, Hollywood's most extravagant film producer, died in his sleep at his apartment in New York Monday at the age of 74. A spokesman said Wanger suffered an apparent heart attack. The veteran producer, whose 50-year career carried Rudolph Valentino, Greta Garbo and Ingrid Bergman to their greatest triumphs, had been retired from Hollywood since his production of Cleopatra, starring Elizabeth Taylor, Richard Burton and Rex Harrison, ended in 1962 acrimony. Wanger is survived by two daughters, Shelly Wagner and Stephanie Guest, wife of the New York socialite. (UPI Telephoto)

Asking 'Complete Amnesty'

Kent U. Black Student Group Presses Demands

KENT, Ohio (AP)—A spokesman for Black United Students (BUS) at Kent State University says black students who walked off the campus will remain away until the university accedes to their demand for "complete amnesty" for all who took part in a sit-in demonstration last week.

The spokesman, Larry Ghe, said Monday night that BUS is going to "set up our own university" at the Centenary Methodist Church in Akron.

About 300 Negro students left the campus late Monday after Dr. Robert I. White, Kent State president, said at a news conference that the university could not accede to the amnesty demand.

Most of them went to the Akron church to stay overnight, while others stayed with sympathetic white professors from Kent State's Humanities Department or went to their homes in Cleveland.

Several white students gathered to watch the Negroes leave, but the withdrawal was peaceful.

Some 200 students, most of them Negro, participated in the six-hour sit-in last Wednesday at the university's job placement office protesting the presence on campus of recruiters from the Oakland, Calif., police department. They claimed that Oakland police practiced "militarized racism."

The walkout was the result of an impasse between BUS and the university administration over disciplinary action against those taking part in the sit-in. The administration insisted that it would continue an investigation to determine if university charges of disorderly conduct should be filed against the demonstraters.

A white student organization, Students for a Democratic Society, also participated in the sit-in, but did not take part in the campus walkout.

Dr. White told the news conference that granting amnesty would permit student grievances to be settled through threats and force instead of through established school procedures.

Earlier, he told of receiving calls from a number of concerned Negro parents who said threats had been made against some of the university's 500 black students to pressure them into participating in the walkout. Total Kent State enrollment exceeds 20,000.

Following the student withdrawal, Dr. White said:

"Mass walkouts are no substitute for rational and reasonable consideration of areas of concern and difference."

White had told BUS Sunday that any of the demonstrators charged following an investigation would face only disorderly conduct charges punishable by conduct probation under the student code.

Opens Door To New Trials

California Court Rules Death Penalty As Legal

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The California Supreme Court, in ruling that the death penalty is constitutional, apparently opened the door to new penalty trials for almost all the 85 men and one woman now awaiting the San Quentin gas chamber.

The convictions stand. But the court also ruled Monday that juries in two cases on appeal will have to decide, once again, whether death or life imprisonment should be imposed as punishment.

By extension, the principle applies to most of the other 84 cases, said Steve Raston, West Coast director of the legal defense fund of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People which fled the appeals more than a year ago.

At San Quentin, Associate Warden James W.L. Park said the decision did not seem unexpected to the 83 men on death row.

"Their reaction is restrained until they see the actual decision and find out what it means for each one of them," Park said.

Park said one condemned man not on death row is before a court and a condemned woman is in the state women's prison at Corona. The 86th candidate for the gas chamber is due to be formally sentenced Friday.

The State Supreme Court's 4-3 decision was written by Justice Louis H. Burke, who ruled that capital punishment has been employed throughout history and cannot be challenged as cruel or unusual under either federal or state constitutions.

"I think it is the law," said Gov. Ronald Reagan. "I concur with it as a proper decision." Reagan favors the death penalty as a deterrent to crime.

Former Gov. Edmund G. Brown, who fought for years to abolish the death penalty, agreed partly with the decision.

"Capital punishment should be abolished," he said. "But not by the courts. This is a matter for the legislature."

The two new penalty trials ordered by the state high court are for Robert Page Anderson, 32, convicted of a San Diego murder, and Frederick Saterfield, 53, convicted of two slayings in Orange County.

In a 6-1 decision the court held that jurors opposing the death penalty were excluded in the original trials. The ruling follows the recent U.S. Supreme Court's Witherspoon decision banning the automatic exclusion of jurors opposing capital punishment.

Woman And Son Hurt In Collision Of Auto, Horse

A 31-year-old Chester mother is in "fair" condition at City Hospital after she and her 8-year-old son were injured when the car in which they were riding was involved in a "collision" with a horse Monday at 7:25 p. m. on Route 30 near the West Virginia - Pennsylvania state line.

Mrs. Joyce Ann Hart, wife of Eugene Hart of 257 Indiana Ave., suffered contusions of the chest and spine. Her son, Rodney Wayne Hart, was treated for a bump on the forehead.

Mrs. Hart told Hancock County deputies she was traveling east on Route 30 when she saw a horse and tried to avoid hitting it, but another horse appeared and hit the side of her car.

The horses were owned by Wilbert Hobbs of Route 30 and had wandered away when a gate was left open. The farm is located near the state line.

There were not citations, deputies said.

Council Rejects Wage Demands At Painesville

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Demands by police and 200 other city employes for higher pay were rejected Monday night by City Council, which said the city could not go beyond its pay package granted last year.

The only change from what council agreed to allow a year ago was on a recommendation by Vaughn Betzer, chairman of the employes relations committee, that the city pay full hospitalization for employes and their families at an annual cost of $27,800.

Betzer said the city agrees to meet with any employes who have matters other than wages to discuss. The statement apparently ruled out any further wage negotiations with police who participated in a sick call work stoppage for a week recently to back up their demands for more pay.

Spokesmen for police declined comment on Betzer's statement.

In effect, all city employes will receive a three per cent pay increase Jan. 1 and another three per cent on Jan. 1, 1970.

Police had asked for a 20 per cent across-the-board increase.

Transfer To Pen Being Waited In Burglary Case

LISBON — Wayne M. Deffenbaugh, 56, of East Palestine is in the County Jail here awaiting transfer to the Ohio Penitentiary to serve 1 to 15 years for burglary.

Bound over to the Grand Jury in connection with a burglary Nov. 7 at the Morris Golden Dawn foods store in East Palestine, Deffenbaugh chose not to wait for the next session of the Grand Jury in January.

He appeared Friday before Judge Raymond P. Buzzard, waived his right to a Grand Jury investigation and pleaded guilty to the charge presented by the prosecution attorney.

In another Common Pleas Court action Monday, Judge Joel H. Sharp withheld a ruling on the prosecutor's application to terminate probation granted last January to Bessie May Burkholder, 32, of Unity. She had pleaded guilty to forgery last year and was placed on good behavior for five years.

Judge Sharp said he found Mrs. Burkholder violated his order to take care of her five children and husband, but he will defer a ruling until the outcome of a hearing in Juvenile Court, where the defendant is charged with contributing to the neglect of the youngsters, ages 5 to 14.

Mrs. Burkholder has been in the County Jail the last four weeks. Judge Sharp ordered her release on her promise to appear when called.

FILM FIGURE DIES. Walter Wanger, Hollywood's most extravagant film producer, died in his sleep at his apartment in New York Monday at the age of 74. A spokesman said Wanger suffered an apparent heart attack. The veteran producer, whose 50-year career carried Rudolph Valentino, Greta Garbo and Ingrid Bergman to their greatest triumphs, had been retired from Hollywood since his production of Cleopatra, starring Elizabeth Taylor, Richard Burton and Rex Harrison, ended in 1962 acrimony. Wanger is survived by two daughters, Shelly Wagner and Stephanie Guest, wife of the New York socialite. (UPI Telephoto)

Asking 'Complete Amnesty'

Kent U. Black Student Group Presses Demands

KENT, Ohio (AP)—A spokesman for Black United Students (BUS) at Kent State University says black students who walked off the campus will remain away until the university accedes to their demand for "complete amnesty" for all who took part in a sit-in demonstration last week.

The spokesman, Larry Ghe, said Monday night that BUS is going to "set up our own university" at the Centenary Methodist Church in Akron.

About 300 Negro students left the campus late Monday after Dr. Robert I. White, Kent State president, said at a news conference that the university could not accede to the amnesty demand.

Most of them went to the Akron church to stay overnight, while others stayed with sympathetic white professors from Kent State's Humanities Department or went to their homes in Cleveland.

Several white students gathered to watch the Negroes leave, but the withdrawal was peaceful.

Some 200 students, most of them Negro, participated in the six-hour sit-in last Wednesday at the university's job placement office protesting the presence on campus of recruiters from the Oakland, Calif., police department. They claimed that Oakland police practiced "militarized racism."

The walkout was the result of an impasse between BUS and the university administration over disciplinary action against those taking part in the sit-in. The administration insisted that it would continue an investigation to determine if university charges of disorderly conduct should be filed against the demonstraters.

A white student organization, Students for a Democratic Society, also participated in the sit-in, but did not take part in the campus walkout.

Dr. White told the news conference that granting amnesty would permit student grievances to be settled through threats and force instead of through established school procedures.

Earlier, he told of receiving calls from a number of concerned Negro parents who said threats had been made against some of the university's 500 black students to pressure them into participating in the walkout. Total Kent State enrollment exceeds 20,000.

Following the student withdrawal, Dr. White said:

"Mass walkouts are no substitute for rational and reasonable consideration of areas of concern and difference."

White had told BUS Sunday that any of the demonstrators charged following an investigation would face only disorderly conduct charges punishable by conduct probation under the student code.

Opens Door To New Trials

California Court Rules Death Penalty As Legal

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The California Supreme Court, in ruling that the death penalty is constitutional, apparently opened the door to new penalty trials for almost all the 85 men and one woman now awaiting the San Quentin gas chamber.

The convictions stand. But the court also ruled Monday that juries in two cases on appeal will have to decide, once again, whether death or life imprisonment should be imposed as punishment.

By extension, the principle applies to most of the other 84 cases, said Steve Raston, West Coast director of the legal defense fund of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People which fled the appeals more than a year ago.

At San Quentin, Associate Warden James W.L. Park said the decision did not seem unexpected to the 83 men on death row.

"Their reaction is restrained until they see the actual decision and find out what it means for each one of them," Park said.

Park said one condemned man not on death row is before a court and a condemned woman is in the state women's prison at Corona. The 86th candidate for the gas chamber is due to be formally sentenced Friday.

The State Supreme Court's 4-3 decision was written by Justice Louis H. Burke, who ruled that capital punishment has been employed throughout history and cannot be challenged as cruel or unusual under either federal or state constitutions.

"I think it is the law," said Gov. Ronald Reagan. "I concur with it as a proper decision." Reagan favors the death penalty as a deterrent to crime.

Former Gov. Edmund G. Brown, who fought for years to abolish the death penalty, agreed partly with the decision. "Capital punishment should be abolished," he said. "But not by the courts. This is a matter for the legislature."

The two new penalty trials ordered by the state high court are for Robert Page Anderson, 32, convicted of a San Diego murder, and Frederick Saterfield, 53, convicted of two slayings in Orange County.

In a 6-1 decision the court held that jurors opposing the death penalty were excluded in the original trials. The ruling follows the recent U.S. Supreme Court's Witherspoon decision banning the automatic exclusion of jurors opposing capital punishment.

Woman And Son Hurt In Collision Of Auto, Horse

A 31-year-old Chester mother is in "fair" condition at City Hospital after she and her 8-year-old son were injured when the car in which they were riding was involved in a "collision" with a horse Monday at 7:25 p. m. on Route 30 near the West Virginia - Pennsylvania state line.

Mrs. Joyce Ann Hart, wife of Eugene Hart of 257 Indiana Ave., suffered contusions of the chest and spine. Her son, Rodney Wayne Hart, was treated for a bump on the forehead.

Mrs. Hart told Hancock County deputies she was traveling east on Route 30 when she saw a horse and tried to avoid hitting it, but another horse appeared and hit the side of her car.

The horses were owned by Wilbert Hobbs of Route 30 and had wandered away when a gate was left open. The farm is located near the state line.

There were not citations, deputies said.

Council Rejects Wage Demands At Painesville

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Demands by police and 200 other city employes for higher pay were rejected Monday night by City Council, which said the city could not go beyond its pay package granted last year.

The only change from what council agreed to allow a year ago was on a recommendation by Vaughn Betzer, chairman of the employes relations committee, that the city pay full hospitalization for employes and their families at an annual cost of $27,800.

Betzer said the city agrees to meet with any employes who have matters other than wages to discuss. The statement apparently ruled out any further wage negotiations with police who participated in a sick call work stoppage for a week recently to back up their demands for more pay.

Spokesmen for police declined comment on Betzer's statement.

In effect, all city employes will receive a three per cent pay increase Jan. 1 and another three per cent on Jan. 1, 1970.

Police had asked for a 20 per cent across-the-board increase.

Sentencing Set Friday In Boy's Slaying Case

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP)—Sentencing is set for Friday for Stanley Everett Rice, a 26-year-old fugitive mental patient who pleaded guilty here Monday to the Mother's Day shotgun murder of a young boy.

Rice had told authorities here he also killed Tim Trask, 8, in Findlay, Ohio, in the summer of 1965 and another youth in Ontario, Canada, two years earlier.

Rice pleaded guilty in the shooting death of Nelson Williams, 11, in a remote area near here. At the time, he was a fugitive from a Concord, Mass. mental hospital.

The assistant public defender here asked that Rice's psychiatric examinations be considered and that he be committed to a mental hospital. The attorney for the state concurred.

Women Still Like Sewing

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

American women haven't lost all their old-fashioned skills. Some 41 million still enjoy sewing at home, and they use $800 million worth of fabrics a year.

What will Lyndon Johnson do after he leaves office? George Washington and Andrew Jackson became farmers. Three remained in public office—John Quincy Adams as a congressman, Andrew Johnson as U.S. senator, William Howard Taft as U.S. Chief justice. Most others simply retired or turned to writing or the practice of law. Most unusual was Rutherford B. Hayes, he became a philanthropist.

Tip to autumn motorists: Beware of speeding on fallen leaves. When frost forms under them, they can be as slippery as glare ice.

Many people are afraid to ride in airplanes, but a few still also are afraid to travel by railroad. They suffer from siderodromophobian the fear of trains.

The pill may be only the first of new ways to reduce the birth rate. A Boston physiologist, Dr. Melvin M. Ketchel, predicts that within five to 15 years methods will be found to control chemically the fertility of entire populations. For example: the chemical could be put in a public water supply—but how soon would the voters approve of that.

Quotable notables: "Every woman should have three husbands. I want you to know there's not one rich man in this country I could not have married sooner or later."—Zsa Zsa Gabor.

Complicated: The command area of the Apollo spacecraft has about 15 miles of wiring, enough for 50 ordinary homes—but it uses only 2,000 watts of power, less than a housewife employs to bake a cake in a modern electric stove.

Underground bargain: Lester B. Dill, operator of the Meramec Caverns in Missouri, turned down $5 million for his hole in the ground, a famed tourist mecca. Thirty years ago he bought it for $30,000.

Tidbits about names in the news: Johnny Carson, television star, has eight color sets and 16 telephones in his duplex apartment—and fur rugs, no less. For $150 you can have dinner in the British mansion of the Duke and Duchess of Bedford and sleep overnight. Herbert Kastle, author of the sizzling novel, "The Movie Maker," is a dedicated distance runner—likes to jog up to 10 miles daily.

Civilization yet may turn into a dump heap. In 1940 you probably had to throw only about two pounds of rubbish a day from your home; now the figure is up to four or five pounds. The daily output of U.S. garbage today, says the National Geographic, would fill a freight train stretching almost from Boston to New York.

Worth remembering: "Frustration is when a girl puts her bra on backwards—and it fits!"

Pumping problem: Because of its long neck, the giraffe has a blood pressure of about 360mm—three times that of the average man. You'd have high blood pressure, too, if your head was seven feet below your heart when you bent over for a drink and 12 feet above it when you reached up to nip food off a tree.

Quickie facts: Alaska has no snakes. A scallop has 40 blue eyes—and no brown ones. The newest gimmick among office status seekers is an attache case emblazoned with their family coat of arms. Only about 200,000 U.S. women hold jobs that pay them more than $10,000 a year.

It was Benjamin Franklin who observed, "The way to be safe is never to be secure."

Council Will Meet

SUMMITVILLE — Summitville Council will meet tonight at 8 in the Township Hall.

Brooke Recount Set For Sprouse; Eyeing Hancock

WELLSBURG, W. Va. (AP) — Defeated Democratic gubernatorial candidate James Sprouse, who lost by more than 13,000 votes in unofficial tabulations, hasn't given up.

James McIntyre, Sprouse's law partner and former campaign coordinator, said a request for a vote recount in Brooke County was submitted Monday and ones for Hancock, Harrison, Ohio and Marion would probably be forthcoming today.

Sprouse already has asked for a re-canvas in Berkeley County. Governor-elect Arch Moore now says he wants a recount there too.

McIntyre said the requests will be made by the various Democratic county chairmen.

Brooke County prosecutor J. Clark McMullen said the recount in that county will be held Nov. 25 in the county court house.

Women Still Like Sewing

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

American women haven't lost all their old-fashioned skills. Some 41 million still enjoy sewing at home, and they use $800 million worth of fabrics a year.

What will Lyndon Johnson do after he leaves office? George Washington and Andrew Jackson became farmers. Three remained in public office—John Quincy Adams as a congressman, Andrew Johnson as U.S. senator, William Howard Taft as U.S. Chief justice. Most others simply retired or turned to writing or the practice of law. Most unusual was Rutherford B. Hayes, he became a philanthropist.

Tip to autumn motorists: Beware of speeding on fallen leaves. When frost forms under them, they can be as slippery as glare ice.

Many people are afraid to ride in airplanes, but a few still also are afraid to travel by railroad. They suffer from siderodromophobian the fear of trains.

The pill may be only the first of new ways to reduce the birth rate. A Boston physiologist, Dr. Melvin M. Ketchel, predicts that within five to 15 years methods will be found to control chemically the fertility of entire populations. For example: the chemical could be put in a public water supply—but how soon would the voters approve of that.

Quotable notables: "Every woman should have three husbands. I want you to know there's not one rich man in this country I could not have married sooner or later."—Zsa Zsa Gabor.

Complicated: The command area of the Apollo spacecraft has about 15 miles of wiring, enough for 50 ordinary homes—but it uses only 2,000 watts of power, less than a housewife employs to bake a cake in a modern electric stove.

Underground bargain: Lester B. Dill, operator of the Meramec Caverns in Missouri, turned down $5 million for his hole in the ground, a famed tourist mecca. Thirty years ago he bought it for $30,000.

Tidbits about names in the news: Johnny Carson, television star, has eight color sets and 16 telephones in his duplex apartment—and fur rugs, no less. For $150 you can have dinner in the British mansion of the Duke and Duchess of Bedford and sleep overnight. Herbert Kastle, author of the sizzling novel, "The Movie Maker," is a dedicated distance runner—likes to jog up to 10 miles daily.

Civilization yet may turn into a dump heap. In 1940 you probably had to throw only about two pounds of rubbish a day from your home; now the figure is up to four or five pounds. The daily output of U.S. garbage today, says the National Geographic, would fill a freight train stretching almost from Boston to New York.

Worth remembering: "Frustration is when a girl puts her bra on backwards—and it fits!"

Pumping problem: Because of its long neck, the giraffe has a blood pressure of about 360mm—three times that of the average man. You'd have high blood pressure, too, if your head was seven feet below your heart when you bent over for a drink and 12 feet above it when you reached up to nip food off a tree.

Quickie facts: Alaska has no snakes. A scallop has 40 blue eyes—and no brown ones. The newest gimmick among office status seekers is an attache case emblazoned with their family coat of arms. Only about 200,000 U.S. women hold jobs that pay them more than $10,000 a year.

It was Benjamin Franklin who observed, "The way to be safe is never to be secure."

Brooke Recount Set For Sprouse; Eyeing Hancock

WELLSBURG, W. Va. (AP) — Defeated Democratic gubernatorial candidate James Sprouse, who lost by more than 13,000 votes in unofficial tabulations, hasn't given up.

James McIntyre, Sprouse's law partner and former campaign coordinator, said a request for a vote recount in Brooke County was submitted Monday and ones for Hancock, Harrison, Ohio and Marion would probably be forthcoming today.

Sprouse already has asked for a re-canvas in Berkeley County. Governor-elect Arch Moore now says he wants a recount there too.

McIntyre said the requests will be made by the various Democratic county chairmen.

Brooke County prosecutor J. Clark McMullen said the recount in that county will be held Nov. 25 in the county court house.

PSU - Kansas In Orange; Georgia, Tennessee Picked

Missouri In Gator; Auburn To Sun

By MIKE BRYSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

A warning to all wives: If you're contemplating any activity that will force your football-loving husband to leave the boob tube on New Year's Day, you might as well forget it now.

The sponsors of that annual first-of-the-year madness—the college bowl games—have lined up some highly palitable fare for a day-long football feast.

Under an NCAA rule, Monday was the first official day bowl sponsors could issue invitations—and berths for the Orange, Sugar, Cotton, Gator, Bluebonnet and Sun Bowls were filled in rapid - fire order. Unbeaten Penn State and once-beaten Kansas, both boasting crunching ground attacks, were paired in Miami's nighttime Orange Bowl, while the Cotton and Sugar bowls lined up matches between the top two powers in the Southeastern and Southwest conferences.

The Cotton Bowl at Dallas picked eighth-ranked Tennessee to meet the undetermined champion of the Southwest Conference, either Texas or Arkansas.

The Sugar Bowl at New Orleans pulled a coup and lured Southeastern Conference champ Georgia from the Orange Bowl.

Officials said they wouldn't name a foe until after Thanksgiving Day, indicating they were awaiting the outcome of Texas' last game against Texas A&M, which will determine the final Southwest standings.

If Arkansas should beat Texas Tech this week and Texas stops the Aggies, then Texas would get the bid since the Longhorns whipped Arkansas during the regular season.

Arkansas will get the nod if it wins and Texas loses, and if both leader loses it will throw the race into confusion, producing a broad range of alternatives.

Top-ranked Southern California, 8-0, already has clinched a trip to the grandaddy of the New Year's classics—the Rose Bowl at Pasadena, Calif.—by winning the Pacific 8 title.

The Trojans will face the Big Ten champion—to be decided in a big showdown this weekend between second-ranked and unbeaten Ohio State and No. 4 and once-beaten Michigan.

Oklahoma, 5-3, which still has an outside chance of sharing the Big Eight title, and Southern Methodist, 6-3, were matched in the Bluebonnet Bowl to be played New Year's Eve in the Houston Astrodome.

Missouri, 7-2, accepted an invitation to the Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla., Dec. 28 against a foe to be named in a few days. Alabama, 7-2, is considered the likely choice for the other berth, although Wyoming, Florida State and Arizona State also are under consideration.

Auburn, 6-3, was picked to play in the Sun Bowl at El Paso, Tex., Dec. 28. An opponent from a field including Nebraska, Air Force, Wyoming, Arizona and Arizona State will be named soon.

Sponsors of the Liberty Bowl have temporarily put off selecting teams for the Dec. 14 game at Memphis, Tenn. The top candidates are Louisiana State, 6-3, Mississippi, 6-3, and Florida State, 6-2.

We received a letter recently from Earl Diddle, star of last season's 19-2 Potter cage team.

Diddle is playing this season at Lindsey Wilson Junior College in Columbus, Ky. He encloses a clipping from a Louisville paper noting that Lindsey Wilsey is expected to have one of the top JC cage teams in the country this season.

Diddle reports that the team scrimmaged Bellarmine, a four-year school, and that he scored 23 points and had several assists. He notes that the man-to-man defense taught by East Liverpool coach Clint McConnell is "a must" in college ball.

Lindsey Wilson's big rival is apparently Paducah Junior College, another JC powerhouse. Lindsey Wilson plays a 28-game schedule, meeting freshman teams from places like Tennessee U. and Western Kentucky, and taking trips to Texas and Missouri. Diddle reports that there are 10 all-staters from Kentucky, Nebraska and Ohio on his team.

In Lindsey's first regularly-scheduled game Saturday night, Diddle scored 10 points as Lindsey whipped Cumberland, Tenn. 99-61.

BEAVER LOCAL'S Dennis Klembara hit 11 of 29 passes for 142 yards as Youngstown surprised nationally-ranked Eastern Kentucky 26-12 Friday night.

JOHN KELLEY of New Cumberland is a freshman on the basketball team at Potomac State College in Keyser, W. Va.

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Southern California's come-from-behind victory over Oregon State in last Saturday's Pacific Coast showdown has bolstered the top-ranked Trojans' bid for the national college football championship.

The unbeaten Trojans, who nailed the host spot in the Rose Bowl by trimming Oregon State 17-13 with a second half comeback, received 27 of 37 votes cast today in the weekly Associated Press poll of sports writers and broadcasters.

Ohio State, which downed Iowa 33-27 to match Southern Cal's 8-0 record, held the runner-up spot, picking up seven first place ballots, but slipped farther behind the Trojans in points, 704-636. The leaders had a 44-point margin over the Buckeyes last week.

Penn State, 8-0, Michigan, 8-1, and Georgia, 7-0-2, remained third, fourth and fifth, with the Nittany Lions receiving two firsts and the Bulldogs one following impressive triumphs. Penn State trampled Maryland 57-13 and Georgia stopped Auburn 17-3.

Michigan, which meets Ohio State Saturday for the Big Ten Conference championship, whipped Wisconsin 34-9.

Texas 7-1-1 following a 47-21 romp over Texas Christian, jumped from eighth to sixth place while Missouri, No. 6 before bowing to Oklahoma 28-14, fell to 13th.

At Columbus Saturday

Ohio State, Michigan In Rose Bowl Showdown

By HAL PARIS
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio, (AP) — Woody Hayes isn't talking much about Michigan these days. But everyone knows what the Ohio State football coach is thinking.

The Buckeyes and the Wolverines clash in Ohio Stadium Saturday in a showdown match that will decide the Big Ten championship and the opponent for Southern California in the Rose Bowl.

The veteran Wolverines of Coach Bump Elliott have disposed of eight straight foes after a season-opening loss to California. Hayes' sophomore-studded club has whipped all eight opponents and boasts a 12-game winning string, second longest in the nation.

Both are 6-0 in the conference and a Buckeye victory or a tie will climax Ohio's first unbeaten campaign since 1954. Michigan must win to make the Pasadena journey since it played in the Rose Bowl more recently than the Bucks.

The setting is similar to the 1964 windup when Michigan came into Columbus with a 5-1 league record and Ohio was 5-0. When the smoke cleared, the Wolves prevailed 10-0 in the winner-take-all duel.

Hayes knows who the oppenent is Saturday but he didn't mention Michigan by name at his Monday luncheon.

"Sark (assistant coach Esco Sarkkinen) can tell you more about our opponent this week than I can," he said.

The dean of Big Ten coaches reported that all hands were expected to be ready Saturday. John Brockington, the power-running tailback, is nursing an ankle injury and end Jan White has a muscle pull in his back.

The Ohio Stadium ground crew was busy installing extra seats which would assure a record crowd of 85,000-plus.

The struggle could shape up as a match between record-buster Ron Johnson of Michigan and Ohio's young but stout defensive unit.

Johnson smashed a national rushing record with 347 yards against Wisconsin Saturday and shattered a long list of school marks.

"Johnson has good size, speed, agility and balance," Sarkkinen noted. "But his extraordinary physique gives him the ability to shake off tacklers. He cuts well and picks up his blockers impressively."

The Buckeye scout also singled out quarterback Dennis Brown, tight end Jim Mandich, safetyman Tom Curtis and defensive back George Hoey.

"Brown has the ability to make the big play. He runs well and is adept at passing. Curtis leads the secondary with nine league interceptions. Mandich is Michigan's best receiver with 36 catches for 496 yards and three touchdowns. Hoey is an outstanding punt return specialist."

Sark said Michigan's well-balanced defense has made a lot of opportunities for the offense with 24 interceptions and 11 fumble recoveries.

Pro Track Loop Proposed In U.S.

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

If two young law school graduates from California have their way, track stars will start running for money next year in track and field's first professional league.

Plans for a 30-meet, three-month season starting next June and including many U.S. Olympic stars and foreign athletes, who will compete for $4 million in prize money, were disclosed Monday night by league organizers Jerry Sherman and Mike Heaman, both of Sherman Oaks, Calif.

The two 29-year-old idea men said they have interested numerous wealthy businessmen throughout the country in the proposed league, which they also hope will attract athletes from other sports.

"We hope to use the National Collegiate Athletic Association as our farm system," said Heaman. "And we're not out to kill the AAU or the Olympics. Athletes still can compete in the Olympics while in college.

"But this association will be set up for the benefit of the track athlete, and that's something that's been long overdue."

"We already have option agreements from about 50 athletes," said Jerry Sherman, "and that includes about 15 members of the U.S. Olympic team." Some of them, he said, are half milers Wade Bell and Tom Farrell, high jumper Ed Caruthers, long jumpers Bob Beamon and Charlie Mays and sprinter Mel Pender.

They also mentioned Jesse Owens, U.S. star at the 1936 Olympics, as a possible commissioner of the league, to be called the National Track and Field Association.

Cities listed for posible franchises were New York, Boston, Philadelphia, St. Louis and Cleveland for an Eastern Division, and Los Angeles, San Francisco-Oakland, Portland, Dallas-Fort Worth and Houston for a Western Division.

Their plans call for athletes to be signed to one-year contracts at $10,000, with the opportunity to win as much as $90,000 in prize money.

A 10-week season would run through August with an all-star meet during the season and a postseason title series between the two divisions.

They also expressed hope of negotiating a television contract, but said the league would not depend on one.

Hull Leads Berenson In Scoring

NEW YORK (AP) — Bobby Hull's 22nd career hat trick has helped the Chicago superstar open up an eight-point lead over St. Louis' Red Berenson and Detroit's Gordie Howe in the National Hockey League scoring race.

Hull banged in three goals against Pittsburgh last Thursday night, moving within four hat tricks of Maurice Richard's all-time NHL mark, and finished the week with league-leading totals of 14 goals and 32 points.

Berenson, who had scored six goals in one game the previous week, and Howe, whose 18 assists give him a share of the playmaking lead with Hull, each have 24 points.

Tied for fourth, with 23 apiece, are Montreal's Jean Beliveau and Chicago's Stan Mikita, the defending point champ. Bob Nevin of New York and Jim Pappin of Chicago are next with 22 each, followed by Detroit's Alex Delvecchio, with 19.

Waterford Sets Benefit For Boy, 14

Thursday night, Waterford Park will stage Grant Peters night.

Peters, 14, of New Sewickley Township, near Freedom, suffers from a disease which has rendered his kidneys inoperable, making it necessary for him to undergo dialysis three times a week in a Pittsburgh hospital.

Since his physicians have recommended an artificial kidney machine be placed in his own home, the public has responded by generously donating some $4,500 to a fund being administered by the Brighton Ave. Rochester, office of the Beaver Trust Company.

Some $10,000 is needed for the first year of operation of the artificial kidney.

By purchasing a ticket for Thursday night's racing program, you can help reach the goal.

In addition to the proceeds from the ticket sales, Waterford Park will donate proceeds from sponsorship of both races and horses in that nights racing program.

Tickets are being sold by every member of the Junior Chamber of Commerce in Beaver County.

Grandstand tickets sell for $1, while clubhouse tickets sell for $2.

Post time for the final week of racing under the stars remains at 7:15 p.m.

Carrier's 53 Pace Victory For Kentucky

By The Associated Press

Thanks to a 53-point outburst by Darel Carrier and a late rally that didn't quite come off, surging Kentucky has whittled Minnesota's lead to 1½ games in the American Basketball Association's Eastern Division.

Carrier turned in the league's highest production this season in powering the Colonels to a 120-119 conquest of Miami Monday night.

Houston turned back New Orleans 99-88 in the night's only other game. All of the National Basketball Association teams were idle.

Carrier, who hit 14 of 14 from the free throw line, drilled in nine of 29 from the field on two-point shots and canned seven of 12 three-point attempts.

Les Hunter scored 26 points for the Floridians.

Willie Somerset's 38 points guided Houston to its first victory over New Orleans in 12 meetings in a game at Monroe, La. It was the Buccaneers' third straight loss.

New Orleans held a 71-66 lead with less than 10 minutes to play, but Somerset fired a rally in which the Mavericks outscored the Bucs 35-22 to take control

James Jones scored 35 for the Bucs, and in the process set a league record for consecutive free throws, connecting on his first eight for 35 in a row over the last seven games, before missing.

Player-PGA Rift Won't Affect PGA In Dayton

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — The two warring factions representing professional golfers guaranteed Monday that they will not let their differences threaten the success of next summer's Professional Golfers Association championship tournament.

A spokesman for the American Professional Golfers in New York dismissed the possibility of a boycott of the tourney by APG members. "We never had that intention in mind," he said.

"The PGA championship will be played in 1969," said PGA President Leo Fraser following a meeting here with officials of the Dayton Area Chamber of Commerce, which is sponsor of the tournament, and the tournament committee.

Fraser said the players have indicated publicly that they would be in the tournament because the contract for the event was effected before formation of the APG.

Virtually all the well-known touring pros are included in the APG membership.

The Dayton Chamber of Commerce had threatened to cancel the championship tourney—one of the big three on the U.S. tour—unless the APG and PGA would guarantee a top field of players here for the Aug. 14-17 event at the National Cash Register Country Club.

Dancer's Image Appeal Considered By Stewards

By GEORGE HACKETT

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The Kentucky Racing Commission promised to issue a set of guidelines today concerning testimony that can be considered at its current hearing on the disqualification of Dancer's Image.

At issue are a series of mysterious post-Derby incidents during which an attempt was made "to salt" the feed and oatbags of Peter Fuller's colt.

The issue was raised by one of Fuller's attorneys, Arthur Grafton, who said that if such testimony were submitted "it would open up a wide field of speculation."

Counsel for the racing commission contends these incidents are closely tied to the current proceedings.

The commission, which opened its rearing Monday, is considering Fuller's appeal of a May 15 ruling by Churchill Downs stewards. They stripped Dancer's Image of his Derby victory on grounds of a urinalysis taken after the Derby that showed traces of Phenylbutazol.

The medication is used to counter inflammation of joints and is not prohibited in Kentucky if it is discontinued long enough before a race so that its presence cannot be detected chemically.

Fuller, a wealthy Boston auto dealer, told the commission that his horse won the Derby on his own, that he believed an error had been made somewhere.

He further testified that the drug had been administered twice to Dancer's Image—on the Sunday before the Derby and again in June when the colt was shipped to his farm in New Hampshire.

Fuller said on both occasions the horse reacted violently, indicating that he was allergic to the medicine.

"There was no reaction after the Derby," he said.

Earlier, George Rabe, an assistant attorney general for the Commonwealth, contended that Dancer's Image had a history of ankle trouble and that on Thursday before the Derby he was regarded as a doubtful starter.

On Derby Day, Rabe continued, the horse made a "miraculous recovery which remains unexplained to date without the administration of Phenylbutazol."

PSU - Kansas In Orange; Georgia, Tennessee Picked

Missouri In Gator; Auburn To Sun

By MIKE BRYSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

A warning to all wives: If you're contemplating any activity that will force your football-loving husband to leave the boob tube on New Year's Day, you might as well forget it now.

The sponsors of that annual first-of-the-year madness—the college bowl games—have lined up some highly palitable fare for a day-long football feast.

Under an NCAA rule, Monday was the first official day bowl sponsors could issue invitations—and berths for the Orange, Sugar, Cotton, Gator, Bluebonnet and Sun Bowls were filled in rapid - fire order. Unbeaten Penn State and once-beaten Kansas, both boasting crunching ground attacks, were paired in Miami's nighttime Orange Bowl, while the Cotton and Sugar bowls lined up matches between the top two powers in the Southeastern and Southwest conferences.

The Cotton Bowl at Dallas picked eighth-ranked Tennessee to meet the undetermined champion of the Southwest Conference, either Texas or Arkansas.

The Sugar Bowl at New Orleans pulled a coup and lured Southeastern Conference champ Georgia from the Orange Bowl.

Officials said they wouldn't name a foe until after Thanksgiving Day, indicating they were awaiting the outcome of Texas' last game against Texas A&M, which will determine the final Southwest standings.

If Arkansas should beat Texas Tech this week and Texas stops the Aggies, then Texas would get the bid since the Longhorns whipped Arkansas during the regular season.

Arkansas will get the nod if it wins and Texas loses, and if both leader loses it will throw the race into confusion, producing a broad range of alternatives.

Top-ranked Southern California, 8-0, already has clinched a trip to the grandaddy of the New Year's classics—the Rose Bowl at Pasadena, Calif.—by winning the Pacific 8 title.

The Trojans will face the Big Ten champion—to be decided in a big showdown this weekend between second-ranked and unbeaten Ohio State and No. 4 and once-beaten Michigan.

Oklahoma, 5-3, which still has an outside chance of sharing the Big Eight title, and Southern Methodist, 6-3, were matched in the Bluebonnet Bowl to be played New Year's Eve in the Houston Astrodome.

Missouri, 7-2, accepted an invitation to the Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla., Dec. 28 against a foe to be named in a few days. Alabama, 7-2, is considered the likely choice for the other berth, although Wyoming, Florida State and Arizona State also are under consideration.

Auburn, 6-3, was picked to play in the Sun Bowl at El Paso, Tex., Dec. 28. An opponent from a field including Nebraska, Air Force, Wyoming, Arizona and Arizona State will be named soon.

Sponsors of the Liberty Bowl have temporarily put off selecting teams for the Dec. 14 game at Memphis, Tenn. The top candidates are Louisiana State, 6-3, Mississippi, 6-3, and Florida State, 6-2.

We received a letter recently from Earl Diddle, star of last season's 19-2 Potter cage team.

Diddle is playing this season at Lindsey Wilson Junior College in Columbus, Ky. He encloses a clipping from a Louisville paper noting that Lindsey Wilsey is expected to have one of the top JC cage teams in the country this season.

Diddle reports that the team scrimmaged Bellarmine, a four-year school, and that he scored 23 points and had several assists. He notes that the man-to-man defense taught by East Liverpool coach Clint McConnell is "a must" in college ball.

Lindsey Wilson's big rival is apparently Paducah Junior College, another JC powerhouse. Lindsey Wilson plays a 28-game schedule, meeting freshman teams from places like Tennessee U. and Western Kentucky, and taking trips to Texas and Missouri. Diddle reports that there are 10 all-staters from Kentucky, Nebraska and Ohio on his team.

In Lindsey's first regularly-scheduled game Saturday night, Diddle scored 10 points as Lindsey whipped Cumberland, Tenn. 99-61.

BEAVER LOCAL'S Dennis Klembara hit 11 of 29 passes for 142 yards as Youngstown surprised nationally-ranked Eastern Kentucky 26-12 Friday night.

JOHN KELLEY of New Cumberland is a freshman on the basketball team at Potomac State College in Keyser, W. Va.

Waterford Sets Benefit For Boy, 14

Thursday night, Waterford Park will stage Grant Peters night.

Peters, 14, of New Sewickley Township, near Freedom, suffers from a disease which has rendered his kidneys inoperable, making it necessary for him to undergo dialysis three times a week in a Pittsburgh hospital.

Since his physicians have recommended an artificial kidney machine be placed in his own home, the public has responded by generously donating some $4,500 to a fund being administered by the Brighton Ave. Rochester, office of the Beaver Trust Company.

Some $10,000 is needed for the first year of operation of the artificial kidney.

By purchasing a ticket for Thursday night's racing program, you can help reach the goal.

In addition to the proceeds from the ticket sales, Waterford Park will donate proceeds from sponsorship of both races and horses in that nights racing program.

Tickets are being sold by every member of the Junior Chamber of Commerce in Beaver County.

Grandstand tickets sell for $1, while clubhouse tickets sell for $2.

Post time for the final week of racing under the stars remains at 7:15 p.m.

Carrier's 53 Pace Victory For Kentucky

By The Associated Press

Thanks to a 53-point outburst by Darel Carrier and a late rally that didn't quite come off, surging Kentucky has whittled Minnesota's lead to 1½ games in the American Basketball Association's Eastern Division.

Carrier turned in the league's highest production this season in powering the Colonels to a 120-119 conquest of Miami Monday night.

Houston turned back New Orleans 99-88 in the night's only other game. All of the National Basketball Association teams were idle.

Carrier, who hit 14 of 14 from the free throw line, drilled in nine of 29 from the field on two-point shots and canned seven of 12 three-point attempts.

Les Hunter scored 26 points for the Floridians.

Willie Somerset's 38 points guided Houston to its first victory over New Orleans in 12 meetings in a game at Monroe, La. It was the Buccaneers' third straight loss.

New Orleans held a 71-66 lead with less than 10 minutes to play, but Somerset fired a rally in which the Mavericks outscored the Bucs 35-22 to take control

James Jones scored 35 for the Bucs, and in the process set a league record for consecutive free throws, connecting on his first eight for 35 in a row over the last seven games, before missing.

Southern California's come-from-behind victory over Oregon State in last Saturday's Pacific Coast showdown has bolstered the top-ranked Trojans' bid for the national college football championship.

The unbeaten Trojans, who nailed the host spot in the Rose Bowl by trimming Oregon State 17-13 with a second half comeback, received 27 of 37 votes cast today in the weekly Associated Press poll of sports writers and broadcasters.

Ohio State, which downed Iowa 33-27 to match Southern Cal's 8-0 record, held the runner-up spot, picking up seven first place ballots, but slipped farther behind the Trojans in points, 704-636. The leaders had a 44-point margin over the Buckeyes last week.

Penn State, 8-0, Michigan, 8-1, and Georgia, 7-0-2, remained third, fourth and fifth, with the Nittany Lions receiving two firsts and the Bulldogs one following impressive triumphs. Penn State trampled Maryland 57-13 and Georgia stopped Auburn 17-3.

Michigan, which meets Ohio State Saturday for the Big Ten Conference championship, whipped Wisconsin 34-9.

Ohio State, Michigan In Rose Bowl Showdown

At Columbus Saturday

By HAL PARIS
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio, (AP) — Woody Hayes isn't talking much about Michigan these days. But everyone knows what the Ohio State football coach is thinking.

The Buckeyes and the Wolverines clash in Ohio Stadium Saturday in a showdown match that will decide the Big Ten championship and the opponent for Southern California in the Rose Bowl.

The veteran Wolverines of Coach Bump Elliott have disposed of eight straight foes after a season-opening loss to California. Hayes' sophomore-studded club has whipped all eight opponents and boasts a 12-game winning string, second longest in the nation.

Both are 6-0 in the conference and a Buckeye victory or a tie will climax Ohio's first unbeaten campaign since 1954. Michigan must win to make the Pasadena journey since it played in the Rose Bowl more recently than the Bucks.

The setting is similar to the 1964 windup when Michigan came into Columbus with a 5-1 league record and Ohio was 5-0. When the smoke cleared, the Wolves prevailed 10-0 in the winner-take-all duel.

Hayes knows who the opponent is Saturday but he didn't mention Michigan by name at his Monday luncheon.

"Sark (assistant coach Esco Sarkkinen) can tell you more about our opponent this week than I can," he said.

The dean of Big Ten coaches reported that all hands were expected to be ready Saturday. John Brockington, the power-running tailback, is nursing an ankle injury and end Jan White has a muscle pull in his back.

The Ohio Stadium ground crew was busy installing extra seats which would assure a record crowd of 85,000-plus.

The struggle could shape up as a match between record-buster Ron Johnson of Michigan and Ohio's young but stout defensive unit.

Johnson smashed a national rushing record with 347 yards against Wisconsin Saturday and shattered a long list of school marks.

"Johnson has good size, speed, agility and balance," Sarkkinen noted. "But his extraordinary physique gives him the ability to shake off tacklers. He cuts well and picks up his blockers impressively."

The Buckeye scout also singled out quarterback Dennis Brown, tight end Jim Mandich, safetyman Tom Curtis and defensive back George Hoey.

"Brown has the ability to make the big play. He runs well and is adept at passing. Curtis leads the secondary with nine league interceptions. Mandich is Michigan's best receiver with 36 catches for 496 yards and three touchdowns. Hoey is an outstanding punt return specialist."

Sark said Michigan's well-balanced defense has made a lot of opportunities for the offense with 24 interceptions and 11 fumble recoveries.

Dancer's Image Appeal Considered By Stewards

By GEORGE HACKETT

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The Kentucky Racing Commission promised to issue a set of guidelines today concerning testimony that can be considered at its current hearing on the disqualification of Dancer's Image.

At issue are a series of mysterious post-Derby incidents during which an attempt was made "to salt" the feed and oatbags of Peter Fuller's colt.

The issue was raised by one of Fuller's attorneys, Arthur Grafton, who said that if such testimony were submitted "it would open up a wide field of speculation."

Counsel for the racing commission contends these incidents are closely tied to the current proceedings.

The commission, which opened its rearing Monday, is considering Fuller's appeal of a May 15 ruling by Churchill Downs stewards. They stripped Dancer's Image of his Derby victory on grounds of a urinalysis taken after the Derby that showed traces of Phenylbutazol.

The medication is used to counter inflammation of joints and is not prohibited in Kentucky if it is discontinued long enough before a race so that its presence cannot be detected chemically.

Player-PGA Rift Won't Affect PGA In Dayton

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — The two warring factions representing professional golfers guaranteed Monday that they will not let their differences threaten the success of next summer's Professional Golfers Association championship tournament.

A spokesman for the American Professional Golfers in New York dismissed the possibility of a boycott of the tourney by APG members. "We never had that intention in mind," he said.

"The PGA championship will be played in 1969," said PGA President Leo Fraser following a meeting here with officials of the Dayton Area Chamber of Commerce, which is sponsor of the tournament, and the tournament committee.

Fraser said the players have indicated publicly that they would be in the tournament because the contract for the event was effected before formation of the APG.

Virtually all the well-known touring pros are included in the APG membership.

The Dayton Chamber of Commerce had threatened to cancel the championship tourney—one of the big three on the U.S. tour—unless the APG and PGA would guarantee a top field of players here for the Aug. 14-17 event at the National Cash Register Country Club.

Pro Track Loop Proposed In U.S.

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

If two young law school graduates from California have their way, track stars will start running for money next year in track and field's first professional league.

Plans for a 30-meet, three-month season starting next June and including many U.S. Olympic stars and foreign athletes, who will compete for $4 million in prize money, were disclosed Monday night by league organizers Jerry Sherman and Mike Heaman, both of Sherman Oaks, Calif.

The two 29-year-old idea men said they have interested numerous wealthy businessmen throughout the country in the proposed league, which they also hope will attract athletes from other sports.

"We hope to use the National Collegiate Athletic Association as our farm system," said Heaman. "And we're not out to kill the AAU or the Olympics. Athletes still can compete in the Olympics while in college.

"But this association will be set up for the benefit of the track athlete, and that's something that's been long overdue."

"We already have option agreements from about 50 athletes," said Jerry Sherman, "and that includes about 15 members of the U.S. Olympic team." Some of them, he said, are half milers Wade Bell and Tom Farrell, high jumper Ed Caruthers, long jumpers Bob Beamon and Charlie Mays and sprinter Mel Pender.

They also mentioned Jesse Owens, U.S. star at the 1936 Olympics, as a possible commissioner of the league, to be called the National Track and Field Association.

Cities listed for posible franchises were New York, Boston, Philadelphia, St. Louis and Cleveland for an Eastern Division, and Los Angeles, San Francisco-Oakland, Portland, Dallas-Fort Worth and Houston for a Western Division.

Their plans call for athletes to be signed to one-year contracts at $10,000, with the opportunity to win as much as $90,000 in prize money.

A 10-week season would run through August with an all-star meet during the season and a postseason title series between the two divisions.

They also expressed hope of negotiating a television contract, but said the league would not depend on one.

Hull Leads Berenson In Scoring

NEW YORK (AP) — Bobby Hull's 22nd career hat trick has helped the Chicago superstar open up an eight-point lead over St. Louis' Red Berenson and Detroit's Gordie Howe in the National Hockey League scoring race.

Hull banged in three goals against Pittsburgh last Thursday night, moving within four hat tricks of Maurice Richard's all-time NHL mark, and finished the week with league-leading totals of 14 goals and 32 points.

Berenson, who had scored six goals in one game the previous week, and Howe, whose 18 assists give him a share of the playmaking lead with Hull, each have 24 points.

Tied for fourth, with 23 apiece, are Montreal's Jean Beliveau and Chicago's Stan Mikita, the defending point champ. Bob Nevin of New York and Jim Pappin of Chicago are next with 22 each, followed by Detroit's Alex Delvecchio, with 19.

New Western Beaver Coach Lenz Will Stress Defense, Rebounding

The Western Beaver High basketball team is practicing with the aid of a rebounding machine.

The machine feeds balls to potential rebounders at any set height. "The machine can be set as high as 12 feet", says new head coach Don Lenz. "I wish I had someone who could rebound at that level".

Lack of height is only one of Lenz' problems. He has only two lettermen from last year's 6-16 outfit. Coraopolis, a perennial WPIAL Class B power, has been moved into Western Beaver's Section 17, replacing Crafton, thus making the schedule tougher.

"We need to get the winning spirit", says Lenz. While this is his first high school job in this country, Lenz did post an 18-2 mark while coaching an American dependent high school team in Germany. Lenz will be assisted by Bob Dominici.

Last year Western Beaver had a porous defense. "We're going to concentrate on defense, passing and rebounding, and play a ball control game", Lenz says of this season's team.

The only returning lettermen are 6-1 John Petchel and 5-10 Chuck Kelker, both seniors. Other hopefuls are 6-3 sophomore Bill Ondra, seniors Ron Misorski, 5-9; Chuck Barrickman 6-1; Bob Benek, 6-2; Dave McCreery, 5-10; and Brian Holbert; and juniors John Begg, 5-11; Barry Dawson, 5-10; and Bill Coble.

Wrestling Officials Set Meeting Tonight

The West Virginia and Ohio Wrestling Officials Association will hold a rules and interpretation meeting tonight at 7 p.m. at the community center in Weirton.

All area wrestling coaches and officials are invited to attend.

A new Pennsylvania half-mile track record was set in September when Fulla Napoleon, three - year - old colt paced a sizzling 1:59 3-5 mile at the Bloomsburg Fair. It is only the second 2:00 mile at state fairs, Carlisle Fair having seen the other.

The victory gave the United States six points to five for Canada and one for Bermuda. The Americans next play the winners of the Guatemala-Haiti-Trinidad section.

When Tony Jacklin, 23, won the Jacksonville Open last March he became the first English golfer to win an American PGA tournament.

Joe Liuzza, 17, turned in one of the best bowling series by a junior during 1968 when he rolled 266, 258 and 280 for an 804 series. He's from Metairie, La.

We could add hobby hauler to the list. Chevy trucks are great for rock hounding. Collecting antiques. Etcetera.

The point is: They're as versatile as anything on the road. Or off. Especially, four-wheel drive versions. They go anywhere.

Wherever you go, you go in style. Sleek front end features a new aluminum grille. In back, there's a new 8½-ft. box on some models. Great for big campers.

Great under the hood, too. Six or V8. Standard on V8 models is a big 307 cubic-incher.

Under the rugged chassis, coil springs take care of bumps. Inside, thick foam seats take care of you.

There's a lot more. And more you can order. Like: power steering and air conditioning. It all adds up to a good deal any way you look at it. See your Chevrolet dealer for all the facts and the good word on low price.

SKATING BUFF, "Rolly" reportedly is the world's only roller skating penguin. After three months of practice, "Rolly" does his stuff for the spectators at a San Diego, Calif., marine attraction. Skates were made especially for his webbed feet.

Colts' Kickoff Man College Cage Star

BALTIMORE — (NEA) — Preston Pearson, rookie kickoff specialist for the Baltimore Colts, never played football in college. He played basketball instead. As a starting guard on the University of Illinois basketball team, he so impressed an Illini football aide, the coach rated him "the best pro football prospect in the school."

Your first thought is that Chevy is a good looking pickup...

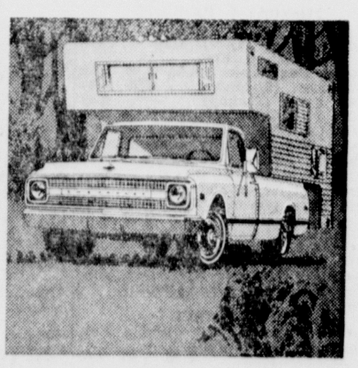
½-ton Fleetside pickup

Here are some second thoughts:

work truck

playmate

second car



camper

We could add hobby hauler to the list. Chevy trucks are great for rock hounding. Collecting antiques. Etcetera.

The point is: They're as versatile as anything on the road. Or off. Especially, four-wheel drive versions. They go anywhere.

Wherever you go, you go in style. Sleek front end features a new aluminum grille. In back, there's a new 8½-ft. box on some models. Great for big campers.

Great under the hood, too. Six or V8. Standard on V8 models is a big 307 cubic-incher.

Under the rugged chassis, coil springs take care of bumps. Inside, thick foam seats take care of you.

There's a lot more. And more you can order. Like: power steering and air conditioning. It all adds up to a good deal any way you look at it. See your Chevrolet dealer for all the facts and the good word on low price.

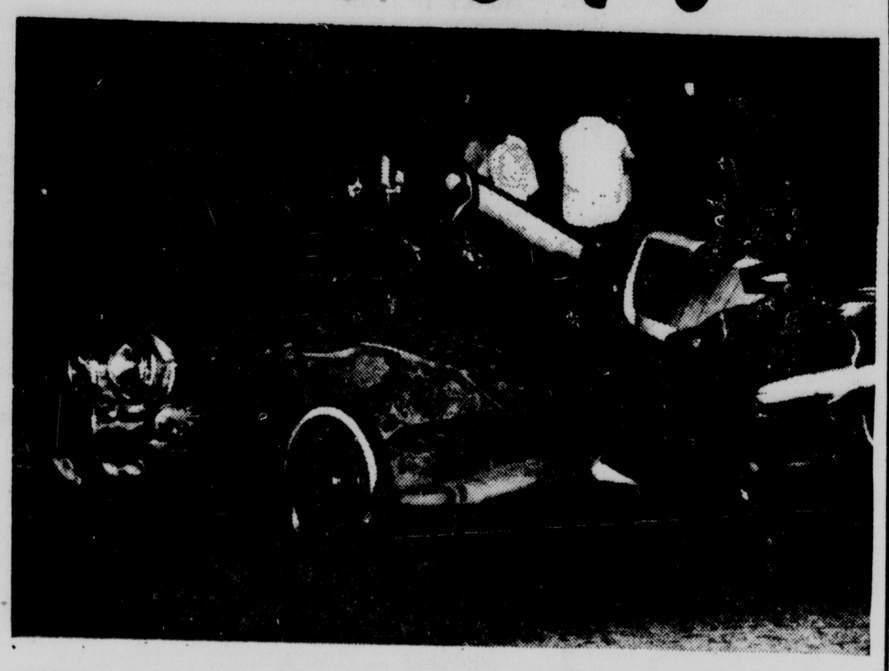
Chevrolet is more truck ... day in, day out, day off!

WATCH OUT!



Motor-vehicle accidents caused 49,000 deaths...1,800,000 disabling injuries in 1965 alone according to the National Safety Council. It can happen to you or any member of your family...driver — passenger — pedestrian. Such an accident is calamity enough. But it can also become a financial calamity if you do not have accident insurance protection to help pay the bills and see your family through the worst of it.

WE have 14 used cars for sale

why only 14?

Because we don't believe in putting cars on our lot just to have them there. Every car on our covered display lot is a new car trade. Why? because we've found that a new car buyer usually trades a better car than a used car buyer.

You hear a lot about reconditioned used cars. Fine as far as it goes. But we try to go one better. By putting cars on a lot that don't need reconditioning. Naturally we do whatever is necessary to our cars to assure you of a safe, smooth, dependable car. But wouldn't you rather have a car that never had anything wrong with it than one which has been repaired for sale? Sure you would. And that's the kind we like to sell at Al Green.

This is the reason behind the Al Green Quality Crest. It symbolizes not only the quality of our used cars but the integrity of sales and service, too.

AL GREEN

A strong warranty always comes with an Al Green car. To protect you from faults that may develop, and to show the confidence we have in our cars.

Many dealers put their "cream puffs" on the front row. So do we. But, then again, we, only have a front row. If you're looking for a used car—look to Al Green. We won't sell you anything but the best. Because we don't have anything but the best.

Our 14 cars

MIKE TURK IS WHY CHEVY-BUICK'S THE BUY!

WE have 14 used cars for sale

why only 14?

Because we don't believe in putting cars on our lot just to have them there. Every car on our covered display lot is a new car trade. Why? because we've found that a new car buyer usually trades a better car than a used car buyer.

You hear a lot about reconditioned used cars. Fine as far as it goes. But we try to go one better. By putting cars on a lot that don't need reconditioning. Naturally we do whatever is necessary to our cars to assure you of a safe, smooth, dependable car. But wouldn't you rather have a car that never had anything wrong with it than one which has been repaired for sale? Sure you would. And that's the kind we like to sell at Al Green.

This is the reason behind the Al Green Quality Crest. It symbolizes not only the quality of our used cars but the integrity of sales and service, too.

AL GREEN

A strong warranty always comes with an Al Green car. To protect you from faults that may develop, and to show the confidence we have in our cars.

Many dealers put their "cream puffs" on the front row. So do we. But, then again, we, only have a front row. If you're looking for a used car—look to Al Green. We won't sell you anything but the best. Because we don't have anything but the best.

Junior Editors Quiz on WEST VIRGINIA

QUESTION: What is the story of West Virginia?

* * * *

ANSWER: Originally, Virginia was a very large area, lying between Pennsylvania and South Carolina and extending west without limit. In 1607, the first permanent English settlement was made at Jamestown, Va. After the eastern part of Virginia became settled, hardy pioneers felt the urge to press westward. First to visit the West Virginia region was John Lederer in 1670. Morgan Morgan built a cabin there in 1726. Germans from Pennsylvania and Scotch-Irish from Ireland soon founded settlements. Coal, discovered in 1742, became extremely important by the time railroads were expanding in the mid 1800's. In 1776, settlers in the western area, having established their own way of life, began to press for a separate state of West Virginia. Statehood finally came in 1863. West Virginia's abundance of raw materials has made the state most important in mining and manufacturing. Areas of fine soil have resulted in agricultural development. The state is proud of its magnificent mountains, reflected in the state motto: "Mountaineers are Always Free."

(Kenneth Luzier of Clearfield, Pa., wins a prize for this question. You can win $10 cash plus AP's handsome World Yearbook if your question, mailed on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper, is selected for a prize.)
